The War Today

By GUY RHOADES

TOTALITARIAN

Resignation of the Japanese government and appointment of a new premier from the ranks of the totalitarian-inclined military clique may have put a new complexion on negotiations between Britain and Japan for closing of the Burma road to China, as was indicated today.

Previous reports of the negotiations suggested Britain might be willing to close the ancient caravan route to munitions and war supply traffic provided some prospect existed of bringing peace to the Far East.

OVER EAGER?

The new premier, Prince Konoye, long has been an advocate of Japanese expansion at the expense of foreign interests in the Orient, aims not shared by the navy group which the retiring premier, Admiral Mitsumasa Yamao, represented.

Tokyo, in the midst of forming a one-party administration, announced an agreement had been signed and gave its own version of the terms. In London, however, Foreign Minister Viscount Halifax, declined to make a statement in reply to questions, although he said he might have one tomorrow.

If Japan sought through an agreement halting shipments to China over the Burma Road life-line, and through Hongkong, to rush the China "incident" to a close and then proceed to new aggressive action, it is possible she made a mistake today through overeagerness.

PATROL

Britain would hardly acquiesce in such a move which might well have as its objects acquisition of French Indo-China and the Netherlands East Indies. The United States, too, has definite interests in this region.

Meanwhile Japanese eyes were focussed hard on powerful units of the United States battle fleet which yesterday steamed from Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, to "patrol" British and French islands in the South Pacific.

LULL

The comparatively sudden turn of events in the Orient took main interest away from Europe, where a lull developed in the war.

Talk of an Italo-German peace offensive still was in the air, and Rome reported its foreign minister, Count Ciano, probably would arrive in Berlin tomorrow for conversations with high Nazi officials.

NO PARLEYING

The British press reaction to such rumors was a reminder that Prime Minister Winston Churchill declared in his radio address Sunday that there would be no parleying and that Britain and its huge Empire would fight on until they won victory and liberated those already under the Axis yoke.

This attitude the public appeared to share, as it proceeded quietly with its drilling for defensive service and pushed ahead all preparations for meeting an attempted invasion.

The consensus appeared to be that if Hitler wants to try an invasion of the British Isles the problem lies with him more than with the defenders.

Final Bulletins

Indians Register

OTTAWA (CP)—National registration regulations will apply to all Indians living in Canada, it was learned today from government sources.

Dr. H. W. McGill, director of the Indian Affairs branch, said about 118,000 Indians, most of whom live on reserves, will be affected.

New Munitions Plant

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States War Department signed today a contract with E. I. DuPont de Nemours and Company for construction of a $25,000,000 smokeless powder plant near Charlestown, Ind., in the Louisville, Ky., industrial area.

U.S. Men Join R.C.A.F.

OTTAWA (CP)—A spokesman for the Air Ministry this afternoon said United States pilots and recruits who have the necessary qualifications can join the Royal Canadian Air Force without taking the oath of allegiance.

It was stated authoritatively yesterday that some United States pilots with long flying experience already had joined the R.C.A.F.

Gas for Germany

BUCHAREST, Rumania (AP)—Three thousand Rumanian tank cars, containing enough gasoline to operate 1,000 military planes for 45 days, are expected to be on their way to Germany shortly as the result of a decision of the Rumanian oil commissioner.

Since shortly after the war started, Rumania has compelled Germany to use her own tank cars to transport oil products. However, now that Rumania's foreign policy is oriented to that of the Reich, all 9,000 tank cars owned by oil companies operating in the country have been requisitioned and one-third have been routed for movement to Germany.

300,000 Under Arms

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Australia will have 300,000 men under arms in the commonwealth by the end of March, ready to deter or repel any possible invasion, a government announcement today forecast.

Brens Far Ahead

OTTAWA (CP)—Munitions Minister Howe stated this afternoon that the first Bren guns were produced in Canada in April "and for many weeks guns have been produced at a rate substantially above that originally planned."

Under the original contract between the government and the John Inglis Company of Toronto, production of Bren guns was planned to start about next September.

In order to speed production the plant is operating seven days a week on a three-shift basis.

Minister Welcomed

CANBERRA (CP)—Clarence Guass, first United States minister to Australia, presented his credentials today to Lord Gowrie, Governor-General.

Prime Minister R. G. Menzies formally greeted the United States minister, and the party, including other high Australian government officials, posed for newsreel cameras. The welcoming ceremony was broadcast.

Found Shot on Ship

POWELL RIVER, B.C. (CP)—An inquiry was being made here this afternoon by Coroner J. P. Scarlett into the death of Jack Wilson, found shot aboard St. Border Prince Monday. Wilson, from Vancouver, was en route north on military service.

Many B.C. Jobs Outside Scheme

Three of British Columbia's primary industries, lumbering, agriculture and fishing, are excluded from the national unemployment insurance scheme, reducing to a small total the number of persons in this province to be covered. Transportation services are also not covered.

Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, said the employer-employee relationship in these occupations is not clearly defined. Intermittent employment in logging would also create a problem, he said, but thought some provision might be made for a special plan to take care of this type of employment.

Lumbering supplies British Columbia's largest single payroll. Labor department figures show 28,485 on the payrolls of firms reporting, and it is estimated between 50,000 and 60,000 are dependent directly or indirectly on the industry.

"So far as the general principle of unemployment insurance is concerned, I'm all for it," said Mr. Pearson. "The quicker it goes into operation the better."

Labor department reports show that of 100,000 males reported in all industrial payrolls, lumbering accounts for 28 per cent, Coast shipping has 6,434 and street railways and power 4,769, bringing to about 40,000 the number excluded from this group. Over and above the payrolls reported in these categories some 18,000 are employed in various branches of fisheries. Agricultural workers number around 45,000.

DAVIDSON DIRECTS EVACUEE SCHEME

The B.C. government has loaned the services of Dr. George F. Davidson, director of social welfare, to the federal government in connection with plans for receiving "guest children" from Britain, it was announced today by Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary.

Dr. Davidson has been active in the drafting of the preliminary arrangements and attended the conferences in Ottawa on the subject.

He will spend a large part of his time in Ottawa co-operating with Hon. T. A. Crerar and federal officials. His services have been loaned for the emergency and he will retain his office with the B.C. government, Dr. Weir explained.

Tragedy at Sooke

Boy Drowns; 1 Saved

Ronald Clark, 14, was drowned and David Anderson, 14, swam 1,000 feet through the surf to safety, when their small boat capsized while they were fishing off Sooke, near the mouth of Coal Creek, last night.

A 14-hour search started last night after 10 and continued through the night. Today two air force planes and all available craft in the vicinity searched without disclosing trace of Clark or the boat in which the two youths had been fishing at the time of the accident.

Clark is the son of Mrs. M. A. Clark, Shirley, and Anderson's parents live at the old Boyd mill, near Shirley.

The two boys, with a third youth of their own age named Tayne, went fishing last evening about 8.30. Heavy seas caused by a southwest blow partly swamped the boat, and the boys put ashore to empty the craft.

IN ROUGH WATER

As they prepared to go out again Tayne declined, feeling it was too rough, while Clarke and

Anderson started out again. It was not long after they put out the second time that the boat capsized.

Anderson, a powerful young swimmer, struck out for the shore, over 300 yards away, believing his companion would do likewise. He told searchers he last saw Clark straddling the up-turned boat, which was pounding around in the heavy surf.

Exhausted, Anderson finally reached the mouth of Coal Creek, and there was taken in charge by Mrs. William Shannon, who had been summoned by Tayne. Tayne was then dispatched to call for aid. Boats from the Elder Logging Company and the Sooke Harbor Fishing and Packing Company were sent out.

Between 11 and midnight every available boat in the area had joined in the search, which was continuing this afternoon. Two air force planes assisted during this morning.

Victor Eve, uncle of Clark, reported this morning an oar from the rowboat had been found, but this was the only trace.

Japan Reports:

Burma Road Closed

TOKYO (AP)—The foreign office announced today that Great Britain had agreed formally to close the Burma Road, life-line of the central Chinese government, and arms traffic into China from the British crown colony of Hongkong.

The agreement, climaxing several weeks of negotiations between Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita and British Ambassador Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, is to take effect Thursday.

No Gasoline Trucks For Chinese Forces

An official spokesman said the arrangement embraced these three points:

1. That Hongkong, as of January 1 last year, prohibited the transport of arms toward China and on Thursday will ban the movement of gasoline, trucks, railway equipment and "other materials."
2. That munitions and war materials entering China via the Burma road will be halted for three months, after which new arrangements will be made.
3. That British authorities in Burma and Hongkong communicate with Japanese consular authorities and arrange the method of putting the measures into effect.

Yakichiro Suma, Japanese foreign office spokesman, declined to comment directly on the statement of the United States Secretary of State, Cordell Hull, of United States interest in world commercial routes, adding that "the agreement concluded between Japan and Great Britain does not concern any third power."

He hoped to make a full statement on the situation Thursday.

In the House of Commons, Richard Butler, Under-secretary for Foreign Affairs, said news of conclusion of "an agreement for a specified period with the Japanese government is expected at any time."

Cabinet Change Delays Report

LONDON (CP)—Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, indicated in the House of Lords today that the resignation of the Yonai government in Japan has held up any announcement regarding conclusion of an Anglo-Japanese agreement dealing with trade routes to China through British territory.

He hoped to make a full statement on the situation Thursday.

In the House of Commons, Richard Butler, Under-secretary for Foreign Affairs, said news of conclusion of "an agreement for a specified period with the Japanese government is expected at any time."

He said the British government had been considering requests and that "substantial progress" had been made towards an agreement.

Wilfred Roberts, Liberal, asked "whether, in view of the public statement of Mr. Cordell Hull yesterday, the American government has expressed approval or disapproval of the arrangements which have been made."

Mr. Butler replied: "I think I must leave interpretation of American statements to Americans."

When Geoffrey Mander, Liberal, asked the under-secretary if "this act of appeasement of an aggressor is likely to be any more successful than previous attempts that have been made at Munich and elsewhere," he was interrupted by cries of "shame!"

Mr. Mander turned to his inter-rupters and declared: "That is exactly what it is—it is shame-ful."

Ruling Affects U.S. Shipments

He asked Mr. Butler if he was going to "refuse access to United States goods that may desire to go on the Burma road in view of the protest that has been made."

The under-secretary argued that it was "rather irresponsible" of the member to make "statements of that sort" before he had heard the full statement that is to be made later in the week.

Mr. Butler did not reply when Emmanuel Shinwell, Labor, asked him "to make this perfectly clear beyond any shadow of doubt—that, while we are anxious to avoid an open quarrel, we shall not truckle to Japan."

Third Term Move Sweeps Convention

CHICAGO STADIUM (AP)—

The Democratic Convention recessed after a 50-minute session today until 5 p.m., P.S.T., when it will act on the party platform and proceed with Presidential nominating speeches.

Platform framers reported they had finally reached an agreement on a "middle of the road" foreign policy plank after an all-day scrap that threw the convention off schedule.

While these things were going on the clamor of "We Want Roosevelt Now" swept a third-term draft movement forward in a boisterous reply to President Roosevelt's message that he had "no wish to be a candidate."

So rapid was its sweep that directors of the campaign to enlist Mr. Roosevelt for another term predicted the convention would get the nomination for him before tonight's session ends.

What the President would do then remained to be seen. But all the chief New Deal lieutenants on the scene predicted he would accept.

Commerce Secretary Harry Hopkins said he had "feeling and assurance" that "when the President is nominated he will accept."

Roosevelt Says He 'Has Not Any Desire To Be Nominated'

Marching Delegates Shouting in Stadium

For 25 minutes the delegates let loose a bedlam of shouting and marching last night when Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky mentioned the President's name during his speech accepting the permanent chairman-ship of the convention.

Informing the convention he was making the statement by "specific request and authorization" of the President, Barkley said:

"The President has never had and has not today, any desire or purpose to continue in the office of President, to be a candidate for that office, or to be nominated by the convention for that office. "He wishes in all earnestness and sincerity to make it clear that all of the delegates to this convention are free to vote for any candidate."

The reading of this message brought to the big stadium a 50-minute tumult. All the pent-up emotions that had been held back through two days of routine and oratory burst forth.

Job Insurance Covers 2,100,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Unless something wholly unforeseen arises, Canada will have in force by the end of the parliamentary session a contributory unemployment insurance act embodying the best features of the British and American schemes.

Backed by the declared intent of the government to have it become law this session, the bill was introduced in the House of Commons last night by Hon. Norman McArthur, Minister of Labor. It provides for a graded rather than flat system of contributions and benefits. Employers and employees will contribute about equally and the government will add one-fifth of their total, as well as assuming administration costs.

A certain degree of security will be provided under the act for 2,100,000 wage-earners by 1941, labor officials estimate.

Contributions next year will be about $67,200,000, of which employers and workers will contribute about $28,000,000 each and the government $11,200,000. Administration will cost about $5,200,000.

Climaxes Years Of Agitation

The bill climaxes a generation of agitation and an attempt in 1935 to enact such legislation, which was ruled out by the Privy Council in London. With the British North America Act, rushed through the British Commons and Lords last week at the request of both Houses of the Canadian Parliament, gave clear jurisdiction in the unemployment insurance field to the Dominion government. All the provinces agreed to this step.

Whether the bill becomes effective law within the next few weeks depends on whether it is referred to a special committee in the Commons or Senate and how prolonged the proceedings there are.

Representative Martin Dies (Democrat, Texas), chairman of the congressional committee, has for several days been acting as a one-man subcommittee digging into alleged evidence of Communist and Fascist activities.

The list was reported to embassies, actors, actresses, directors and writers.

John L. Leach of Portland, Ore., yesterday outlined what he said was the general Communist program on the west coast, today detailed asserted activity in the film colony.

The professional group in Hollywood, he told the committee, contributed $1,200 to $1,500 a month to the party, exclusive of campaign contributions and special assessments.

One producer, Leach reportedly testified, contributed $500 each month and in 1936 spent several months in the Soviet Union.

The party, Leach's testimony asserted, acted on a fear of anti-Semitism and of Nazism to build its strength in Hollywood.

Alberni War Drive Gains Momentum

ALBERNI (CP)—The war drive of this Vancouver Island lumbering town was under full swing today, with efforts being made by residents of all groups and ages to swell the local war fund.

Recruiting was under way by the Alberni branch of the Canadian Women's Service League and plans were being made for formation of a civilian protection committee. The branch was asking for 160 women between the ages of 16 and 45 to bring the unit to full strength.

Alberni district waterfront workers have voted $1,000 a month to the town's war fund, the first month's total of which will be sent to Vancouver's Air Supremacy Fund.

More than $5 was given to the Red Cross by a Port Alberni schoolboy, Arthur Wilkinson, who collected used banana crates and sold them in Victoria to raise the money.

Children of the Knox Presbyterian Church here gave $10, obtained when they voted to go without ice cream at their annual picnic held recently. The money was sent to the Red Cross.

C. A. Starrett Funeral

HAMILTON (CP)—Funeral of C. A. Starrett, newspaperman for half-century and connected with the Canadian Press for 26 years, was held here today following a service last night in Toronto. C. A. Day, John W. Tibbs and H. H. Gordon, all of Toronto, represented the Canadian Press.

In the case of those earning less than 90 cents a day or those under 16 years of age, the employer contributes 15 cents as his share and also contributes nine cents on behalf of his employee.

No Benefits for Misconduct or Strike

A point expected to provoke some argument is the disqualification from benefits of a person who loses work "due to misconduct or a labor dispute in which he is directly involved."

However, at another point the act states that this will not apply where a person is discharged because "he belongs to a union of workers." (Discharge of employees for union activities was made a criminal offence a year ago.)

Others disqualified from benefits are those unwilling to accept a suitable employment, receiving an old-age pension or being an inmate of a public institution.

The whole machinery will be run by a three-man commission, the chairman appointed for 10 years and the other two for five. One will be named after consultation with workers' representatives and the other after consultation with employers' representatives.

The commission will have the assistance of an advisory committee which will report to the government on the state of the unemployment insurance fund as of the end of each calendar year. If this committee thinks the fund is likely to be insufficient to discharge its liabilities or more than sufficient for that purpose, it may recommend appropriate changes in the act itself regarding rates and conditions.

A system of courts of referees is also provided for in the bill. These courts, presided over by an appointee of the commission, will include representatives of workers and employers.

Employers or employees failing to comply with the act generally are liable to a maximum penalty of $250 or three months in jail.

Employment Service Will Be Set Up

Creation of a Dominion employment service, long mooted, is also provided under the commission. Regional divisions would be established and each regional office would be a clearing house for employment information and applications from the employment offices in the division, to bring employers and workers together over a wider area. Loans for transportation would be provided in certain circumstances for workers.

A national employment committee, representative of industry and labor, would advise and assist the commission in this phase of its work. Similar local committees would be appointed.

The labor minister, Hon. Norman McArthur, told the Commons the present was a notably appropriate time for the setting up of such an insurance scheme. For its successful operation, a substantial fund had to be established during good times and more people were employed in Canada on July 1 last than at any time in the nation's history, he said.

The Conservative leader, Hon. R. B. Hanson, read a submission from the Canadian Chamber of Commerce asking that consideration of the bill be put off to allow "adequate time" for consideration.

He said at least the bill should be sent to a committee where industry and labor would be given an opportunity to make representations.

A. W. Neil, Independent, Comox-Alberni, sat on committees studying the matter through the sessions of 1928 and 1929, and from then until 1934 he urged it in private member resolutions six times. But last night he urged public hearings before a committee or postponement until next year.

Vancouver Chinese Held

VANCOUVER (CP)—City police held four Chinese for investigation today, following a raid by city and Royal Canadian Mounted Police last night and early today in which an automobile, revolver and ammunition were seized.

The raids were made after Provincial Police officers had found three gallons of unsealed liquor in an automobile carrying the four Chinese.

Earl of Athlone Speaks

King George's Leadership Adds Strength to Empire

OTTAWA (CP)—"For King and country" is no mere empty phrase, the Earl of Athlone told the Canadian Club of Ottawa today in a brief luncheon address, his first public speech since he took office as Governor-General June 21.

"It does not mean that we are fighting to maintain a dynasty against its rivals or the personal supremacy of a particularly Royal house," he said. "It does not mean we are fighting to preserve a set of traditions just because they are traditions."

"It does mean that we are fighting to keep intact the keystone arch on which our collective life and our freedom depend, the point around which the nation's sense of a continuing force revolves, that very heart of our national existence. Who will deny that such a cause is a righteous one?"

The Earl expressed his pleasure at addressing "my own fellow-citizens," and pointed out a Governor-General is greatly restricted in the choice of subjects on which he may speak in public. "But," he said, "there is one subject on which I think I can speak to you without risk of committing a verbal indiscretion, and that is about our King."

STAYED AT PALACE

During the Governor-General's last few weeks in England he stayed at Buckingham Palace and so had an opportunity of seeing and talking to the King almost every day, of observing His Majesty's daily life and preoccupations.

"No one appreciates more than the King himself the seriousness of the situation and the necessity for one and all of his subjects to show that unity of purpose which is and will be required to carry through this righteous fight against Nazi despotism and to the dilution and loss the nation has sustained." He pledged that his department would "do its best to try to utilize the services of both men and women to the utmost extent."

MORE WOMEN TO WORK IN BRITAIN

LONDON (CP)—Long hours of labor are beginning to take their toll among enthusiastic young workers seeking to solidify the nation's industrial front, Labor Minister Ernest Bevin warned women members of parliament at a luncheon today.

He told how some employees had been working 17 or 18 hours daily and added that "all evidence goes to show we carried on these hours too long and production is on a decline rather than increasing."

Women must be enrolled in industry in far greater numbers, he said, explaining how he could place 250,000 properly trained women in jobs almost immediately.

The country should realize the "financial capital loss it is suffering in this war owing to neglect and allowing to rot so many skilled men and women in the last 15 years." He declared "it must never occur again."

Another thing that people should realize, Mr. Bevin said, is that no labor minister could make up "except by devious methods

'German Onslaught Will Fail'—Sinclair

LONDON (CP)—A "great onslaught" of German forces on Britain by land, sea and air simultaneously may come "within the next month," and if it comes "it will fail," Air Secretary Sir Archibald Sinclair said in a broadcast tonight.

He declared Great Britain was certain to have to withstand an air attack many times greater than any which the enemy has yet launched.

"The war cannot be won until we have passed from the defensive to the offensive in their air and on sea and land as well," he continued.

He announced that this month 105 "enemy" planes had been brought down, while Britain lost 24.

He said he had reason to believe material damage to German war industry and communications had been very heavy.

Sir Archibald paid high tribute to the work of Canadian, Australian and New Zealand pilots in fighting, bombing, reconnaissance and submarine hunting, and emphasized how invaluable was the provision of training space in the Dominions for the building of an air force numerically greater than the Luftwaffe.

No Initial Listing Of Objectors

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of War Services, told the House of Commons this afternoon it was not thought advisable to ask any questions regarding conscientious objections to bearing arms in the questionnaire for the national registration.

The registration was for the purpose of finding out what the people could do, he said. Later, when the results of the registration were being used, ways and means could be considered of ascertaining who were conscientious objectors.

The minister was answering a question from M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F., Rosetown-Biggar, Sask.

Magazine Clean-up

VANCOUVER (CP)—The community standards council here was making plans today for its proposed "clean-up drive" of Vancouver's magazine stands early in August before the reopening of school.

The council, which includes representatives from the Canadian Legion, Parent-Teacher Association, Catholic Women's League, Local Council of Women and other similar groups, met last night and formulated a code for judging what it termed salacious literature.

Co-operation of wholesalers and retailers of magazines here will be sought by the council in banning offending magazines from street sales.

Australian Fliers Sink U-Boat

LONDON (CP)—The Air Ministry and the Ministry of Home Security issued the following joint statement tonight:

"Bombs were dropped by enemy aircraft during the day at a few points in the southeast of England, and also near a town in Scotland. These caused some casualties, very few of which were fatal, and also some damage to houses, four of which have been wrecked."

Earlier the Air Ministry had announced that owing to bad weather the Royal Air Force bombers did not operate last night. It was the first time in weeks they did not visit enemy territory. The coastal command, however, carried out its usual reconnaissances over an area from Scandinavia to the Bay of Biscay.

The bombing and sinking of an ocean-going U-boat in the Atlantic "recently" by a Sunderland flying boat was announced by the Air Ministry news service. The flying boat was of the Royal Australian Air Force attached to the coastal command.

The Sunderland dive-bombed the submarine twice after sighting it. A naval ship picked up survivors.

British and German planes fought over the English coast again yesterday and last night the sound of anti-aircraft fire over northeast England indicated the presence of more hostile planes.

The British reported three German bombers were shot down yesterday following attacks in which "some houses were wrecked, but the only casualties were a few persons injured" along the northeast coast of Scotland.

ENEMY CLAIMS

BERLIN (AP)—Today's German communiqué said:

"Air force activity was slight because of bad weather. German planes attacked harbor facilities at Thurso in north Scotland and set a merchant ship on fire with bombs."

"At the southern tip of Scapa Flow British troops barracks were successfully bombed. There were no enemy flights to Germany."

Manion's Son Named To New York Post

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister MacKinnon announced today that J. P. Manion, son of Hon. R. J. Manion and former assistant trade commissioner at Paris, has been appointed assistant trade commissioner at New York.

He will replace R. G. C. Smith, who has enlisted for active service with the Canadian forces.

Mr. Manion has been a member of the commercial intelligence service for the past nine years. He first served as assistant trade commissioner at Tokyo, but for the past six years has been stationed at Paris. He and his French wife and infant daughter arrived here from France a few days ago.

No Release For Annenberg

CHICAGO (AP)—Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson today denied Moe L. Annenberg's petition for probation. Annenberg is under sentence to serve three years in prison for violation of the income tax laws.

The court also denied a motion for a six weeks' extension of Annenberg's stay of execution, submitted Monday by the Philadelphia publisher's chief counsel, Weymouth Kirkland.

Judge Wilkerson sentenced Annenberg July 1 on a plea of guilty to evasion of $1,217,296 taxes on his 1935 income. At that time he granted a stay until July 22, next Monday.

Kirkland's plea for extension of the stay, should probation be denied, was on the ground Annenberg needed to have two operations performed before going to prison.

Where Windsors Will Be 'At Home'

Social life of the very social-minded Anglo-American Nassau set will be centred on this building, now that the Duke of Windsor has been appointed Governor of the Bahamas Islands. It's Government House at Nassau, where the Duke and his Duchess will live.

The harbor of Nassau. Some of the many cays of the Bahamas are seen in the upper left corner.

NASSAU — The Duchess of Windsor "will be received" in the society of the Bahamas when the former king arrives to become Governor and Commander-in-Chief, Lady Taylor, Grand Dame of the colony for 22 years, made this known today.

"She is the wife of the King's representative," Lady Taylor explained.

"This is a fine solution to a pressing problem. It is a matter of extreme importance. I'm sure we all hope the appointment of His Royal Highness will prove beneficial."

Lady Taylor's comment reached here from her summer home at Pointe au Pique, Canada, and was believed typical of the wealthy Anglo-Americans toward the American divorcee.

Lady Taylor is the wife of the retired manager of the Bank of Montreal and the grandmother of Brenda Frazier. Miss Frazier spends part of her winters at the Taylor mansion here. Howard Spencer, boyhood friend of President Roosevelt, who gave his estate adjacent to the Roosevelt estate to Father Divine, is another prominent American resident. There are several more here, many having come to escape American taxes, but who are now paying British war taxes which are even higher.

The 2,000 white inhabitants of the 29 islands, 661 inlets and 2,387 rocks forming the Bahamas, professed delight today at the appointment of the Duke.

Those "in trade" expected him and the former Wally Simpson to do marvels for the tourist business.

The Duke will get $12,000 a year salary, but will have to supplement that considerably from his private fortune.

FIFTH COLUMN MINOR FACTOR

How has the war affected the Bahamas? On the surface, very little. Life goes on in just about the same leisurely manner it has for centuries. But underneath directed in their operations by radio. It cannot be believed that the German air force, so efficient in other respects, was deficient in this.

"The crime against Rotterdam was a deliberate, fiendish assault on unarmed, undefended civilians. The world knows Rotterdam is built on marshy soil and that therefore adequate underground bomb shelters could not be constructed. Of course, the Germans knew this, too."

Seventy thousand others were maimed and injured, the statement added.

"When Rotterdam was bombed, it continued, 'the Dutch army's capitulation had already been handed to the German high command. The Germans say the planes were in the air and could not be called back—it is customary for all military planes to be equipped with radio and to be

Konoye Forms Cabinet in Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Emperor Hirohito called Prince Fumimaro Konoye to the imperial palace tonight and ordered him to form a cabinet.

Under Konoye, Japan is expected to march farther along the road to domestic totalitarianism and foreign expansion.

Prince Konoye was chosen to succeed Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai, whose cabinet resigned yesterday, apparently under army pressure for a more nationalistic Japan. The new Premier is expected to form a cabinet quickly.

FOREIGN POLICY

With selection of the premier agreed upon, speculation centred chiefly on the foreign ministry and foreign policy. It was thought Prince Konoye might serve both as premier and foreign minister, as he did in 1937.

Also mentioned for foreign minister were Yosuke Matsuoka, veteran statesman who was a delegate to the Versailles peace conference, and Toshiro Shiratori, recently recalled ambassador to Italy who long has advocated a military alliance with Germany and Italy. Pro-axis groups put in a demand for Shiratori.

Japan was expected to turn to a radically altered foreign policy—once looking to Japanese expansion southward. The provincial press editorialized that the Yonai resignation was a natural development from rising public opinion that a new and stronger foreign policy was necessary.

(In Chungking a spokesman for the Chinese regime of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek said he expected a Konoye cabinet would launch a "peace offensive" on the Asiatic continent.)

'GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY'

One of the chief reasons given for Admiral Yonai's fall was his government's failure to satisfy expansionists who demanded that Japan take full advantage of the "golden" situation created by the defeat of France and the Netherlands, both of whom have rich colonies in the Far East.

Yonai was attacked, too, for excessive "liberalism" and for not working closely enough with Italy and Germany.

Yakichiro Suma, foreign office spokesman, indicated in a press interview today the British-Japanese negotiations over closing of the Burma route for war supplies to China might hit a snag in the change in ministries. Continuation of the negotiations, he said, would depend on whether the new government found further instructions from London "satisfactory."

SERVED AS PREMIER

Prince Konoye is a veteran political leader despite relative youth. Only 48, he was premier for 19 months in 1937 and 1938, taking office shortly before outbreak of the Japanese-Chinese war.

Admiral Yonai was offered the premiership last January only after Prince Konoye had turned down urgent appeals to take office.

The prince was a delegate to the Paris peace conference, and from 1933 to 1937 he was president of the House of Peers.

After his resignation as premier, Prince Konoye became head of the Privy Council, one of the empire's highest offices, resigning last June 24 to head the new National Party.

Price Control Extended

LONDON (CP)—Britain is taking precautions against increases in living costs and a repetition of last winter's fuel shortage. The Ministry of Food announced control of the prices of dried peas and beans. The government also announced it hoped to have reserves of 20,000,000 tons of coal in England before winter sets in.

Strengthens Bonds

SPOKANE — "Dean Spencer Elliott's visit has drawn closer the bonds between us of the United States and our friends in Canada," said the Very Rev. Dean McAllister of Spokane, speaking at a large gathering assembled at the Summer School of the Missionary District of Spokane at McDonald's Point, Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

"While Dean Elliott has avoided all propaganda in the course of his lectures his presence among us has greatly increased our understanding of the English and Canadian character and point of view," the dean said.

The Bishop of Spokane, endorsing the dean's remarks, said Dean Elliott had come to them carrying the burden of his own personal sorrows and his concern for many friends and former parishioners in England and he had shown them the meaning of that triumphant Christian faith which was the secret of British endurance. He had helped them to understand the British people were not to be easily cast down but maintained their courage in the face of grief and were resolute for the days ahead.

The bishop's choir then sang God Save the King, during which the entire assembly remained standing.

Plane Speed-up

OTTAWA (CP)—Already more than 20 per cent of the 808 elementary training aircraft required for the air training plan have been delivered, and within the next few days production of these planes will be increased substantially, according to the Department of Munitions and Supply.

Output of the trainers—De Havilland Tiger Moths and Fleet planes—is proceeding on an accelerated schedule and some 12,000 Canadians now are busy on the aircraft production program, says the department.

Unemployment Insurance

IT IS THE HOPE OF MR. KING THAT THE unemployment insurance bill introduced by Minister of Labor McLarty in the House of Commons will be enacted into law at the present session of Parliament. The majority of the Canadian people will share this hope. And since the measure appears to have the blessing of all political parties, with the proviso, of course, that it shall be fully and intelligently considered in its varied aspects, there is no reason why this progressive legislation should be unduly hindered in its passage to the statute books.

History reminds us that every great reform calculated to improve the lot of the masses has found it necessary to hurdle obstacles hastily erected by those who do not readily comprehend the long view. In this and other countries there is still an unexplainable hesitancy to admit that a contented working population not only makes for economic stability and national progress but also adds stature and influence to the body politic. In the case of the measure before the House there is criticism because the bill was not introduced earlier. The complaint is not a very convincing one and should not be endowed with too much importance. Members of all political parties, incidentally, are, or should be, well aware of the essential provisions of the legislation. In its fundamentals it differs little from that passed at the last session of the Bennett regime in 1935—declared by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council to be unconstitutional because it invaded the rights accorded to the provinces by the precise stipulations of the British North America Act.

In the five years' interval, moreover, it has been no easy job to obtain the consent of all the nine provincial legislatures for the change in Canada's constitution to permit the Dominion to add to its specific prerogatives the authority to enact unemployment insurance. It will be recalled that until its emphatic defeat last October the province of Quebec under the direction of Mr. Duplessis stood resolute in its refusal to follow the example of the other provinces. In view of the fact, therefore, that for the first time in the whole history of the Dominion the provinces agree on this amendment to the nation's charter, it would be extremely unwise to delay the passage of the bill.

Money From Britain

NEW ARRIVALS FROM BRITAIN WHO have Canadian and United States investments at their command are able to finance themselves here. Others face the problem of raising money for bare living expenses, although they may have credits in British banks. The British government sets a $50 limit to the cash a person may take on leaving Britain. Difficulties and delays are experienced in getting funds through from London and at best only a fraction of what is asked for is sanctioned. Persons here for years, who are dependent on incomes from England, are finding the problem as serious as are newcomers.

Appeal is now being made to the British government to permit evacuees to transfer funds from Britain to Canada. It is pointed out that evacuation of old people and children to Canada is a definite part of Britain's defence program and should be so regarded. There will be fewer mouths to feed, less space needed on vessels bringing supplies into Britain, less exchange needed to pay for these supplies. This exchange saving should be made available to the people responsible for it by emigrating. "Hundreds of our war guests came here for safety, not for charity," says the Financial Post. "But they are being humiliated by the action of their government in refusing them the means to maintain themselves here out of funds they have in Britain."

Agreement Reached?

WHILE THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN HAS been treated only to its preliminaries, the battle of the Burma Road flared up in the House of Commons this afternoon—partly because the prospect of a pro-Nazi government in Tokyo is disturbing, and partly because of a growing apprehension lest there be an intention to appease the Japanese war lords to prevent an open breach. Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs Richard Butler announced he expected the news at any time that an agreement to close this highway for a specified period had been reached. Tokyo went him one better; its Foreign Office declared that Britain had formally consented to close the road—the lifeline of the government of General Chiang Kai-shek—and to end the traffic in arms into China from Hongkong. The Japanese official spokesman who made the announcement cited the terms of the pact as follows:

1. That Hongkong, as of January 1, last year, prohibited the transport of arms toward China, and tomorrow will ban the movement of gasoline, trucks, railway equipment and "other materials."
 2. That munitions and war materials entering China via the Burma Road will be halted for three months, after which new arrangements will be made.
 3. That British authorities in Burma and Hongkong communicate with Japanese consular authorities and arrange the method of putting the measures into effect.
- Several British Parliamentarians today voiced their distrust of any such arrangement with the Japanese. Wolverhampton's Liberal member Geoffrey Mander was interrupted with cries of "Shame" when he asked Mr. Butler if "this act of appeasement of an aggressor is likely to be any more successful than previous attempts that have been made at Munich and elsewhere." To his interrupters he retorted: "That is exactly what it is—it is shameful." And when Mr. Mander asked further if it was the intention of the British government to refuse access of United States goods to the Burma Road—in view of Mr. Cordell Hull's protest of yesterday—he was told by the Foreign Affairs Under-Secretary that it was "rather irresponsible" of a member to make "statements of that sort" before he had heard the full pronouncement to be made later in the week.

This may be so; but perhaps Mr. Mander had the idea the House would be told what had been done after it had been done long enough to prevent its undoing. The British Foreign Office under Viscount Halifax's direction is by no means unacquainted with this procedure. This "incident" is vital to us in this part of the world; it involves our good neighbor on the south. It raises the question: Is Japan to be allowed again to get away with another part of the march she began and carried out without interference when her soldiers invaded Manchuria nine years ago? It was that march which set the pace for Hitler and Mussolini—which had its climax in submission to totalitarianism at Munich. But it was thought British "appeasement" was buried last September 3. We hope no exhumation order has been issued.

'We Want Roosevelt'

WHATEVER MR. ROOSEVELT'S PERSONAL feelings about running for a third term may be—and we can well believe he has "no wish to be a candidate"—the Democratic Convention at Chicago obviously has made up its mind to draft him, for another battle whether he wants to fight or not. It only required the bare mention of the President's name by the chairman last night to set off a demonstration probably unparalleled at any other similar meeting in the history of the United States. For nearly half an hour the delegates paraded round and about the great stadium chanting "We want Roosevelt now!" So certain are the convention officials of the unanimity of the party representatives that it will not be necessary to delay the business of nominations until tomorrow. It is quite likely that not long after this is read Mr. Roosevelt will have been "drafted" and that he will have signified his willingness to establish a new precedent.

It is not easy for us in this country to remain unmoved over the proceedings at Chicago. The great majority of Canadians, irrespective of their own political views and the comparatively delicate line of demarcation which divides the major parties of both nations, have wittingly or unwittingly cultivated a warm regard for Mr. Roosevelt. His many manifestations of personal solicitude for this Dominion and the cause to which it, with the rest of the Empire, is irrevocably committed, are unique in international relationships. Nor can we lightly disregard his memorable assurance that the United States would not stand idly by if another non-British power threatened the political and territorial integrity of this part of the Britannic Commonwealth. He established an intangible bond between this country and his own on that occasion which attached new meaning—if that were possible or necessary—to an illuminating record of peaceful association extending back for more than a century. But whether he accepts the nomination, whether or not he wins if he does so, we in Canada will always be able to count our neighbor a good friend.

Any resemblance of the Nazi notable, General Stuepnel, to a living ruler of a former of a similar name is entirely coincidental. Besides the latter is only a colonel.

A PLACEMENT PROBLEM

From Richmond Times-Dispatch

With the appointment of the Duke of Windsor as Governor-General and commander-in-chief of the Bahamas, the British government has solved a problem of placement which may have given it some trouble. Prime Minister Winston Churchill is known to be an admirer of the Duke, and was one of the British leaders who stood by him during the trying time of his abdication from the throne.

When the war came, the former King Edward went back to England to accept a commission as a major-general in the British army, and was later assigned to duty in France as chief liaison officer between the British and French governments.

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor, however, kept well ahead of the onrushing Nazi tide in France, and both ultimately arrived safely in Spain with other refugees. There have since been accounts from Madrid of the social activities—under difficulty—of the Windsors, or of the success of the Duchess in placing before the Duke some favorite dish which he had been denied during his military service in France.

Does the British government expect to make a colonial administrator out of the Duke of Windsor? Or has it found a soft spot in the Bahamas and sent him there, because it serves the doubly useful purpose of removing him from the sphere of military activities (in which, there is some reason to believe, he may have proved a liability), and placing him on a British playground, where he will be at home, and where the presence of himself and his wife will vastly stimulate the tourist trade?

But one cannot help feeling sorry for Sir Cecil Farquharson Dundas, present governor of the Bahamas, and an experienced colonial administrator, who must go to Uganda, a British protectorate in Africa, in order to make way for the duke.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

NO SOLDIERS

TO ANYONE WHO has been in Washington it is no surprise to hear from President Roosevelt that American soldiers will not be sent to Europe. No one expected they would be, once France collapsed. Until that collapse there was a very real probability that the United States would be drawn into this war on the lines of the last war. Indeed, in Washington before the French defeat you could not have found anyone who would willingly bet that the United States could stay out of the war until the November election.

That feeling reached its peak in the early days of the drive into France. It dropped again when the United States public realized France was through. The American government, however, knew that France was through for at least a fortnight before the public suspected it and while we were thinking here in terms of a last-minute French rally, the American authorities had assumed that the infantry war on the continent was over.

With this knowledge came the certainty that American soldiers would not be sent to Europe for the present anyway. One of the first half dozen men of the United States, a man who advises the President daily, put it to me this way:

"With Hitler in control of the continent, we would have to send over an army of about 5,000,000 men to be of any use. How do you transport and land 5,000,000 men in Europe against a well-established army? And do you realize that it would be two years at least before we could raise and equip any large expeditionary force, assuming we were prepared to risk all our strength on such an adventure? No, we can send no soldiers."

THE OTHER WEAPON

BUT THIS DOES NOT mean that the United States has written off the war as lost. On the contrary, the United States bases its present policy on the assumption that Britain can stand the German siege and win in the end. Only because it believes Britain can hold out does the United States send it supplies that could well be used at home for American defence. How, then, does the United States expect the war to go?

I quote the same authority who told me, 10 days before the surrender, that France was finished. "Hitler," he said, "has won on the continent. He has conquered everybody as Napoleon did. But how can he hope to establish more than a shaky Napoleonic empire over all these hostile people? It may last for a while. It cannot last indefinitely under pressure. That pressure is coming surely and inevitably."

"By autumn Europe will be in the midst of the greatest famine history has even seen. We know that from the statistics of our agricultural department. We know that there isn't sufficient food growing in the ground now to feed Europe next winter. By Christmas the German army will look across Europe and perceive that it has won a great military victory. But it will be hungry. Or if the troops are fed, the soldiers' wives and children will be hungry. And all over Europe there will be a desperate population difficult to subdue. And in the end, whether next winter or later, this whole structure is going to collapse under its own weight, if Britain can maintain the blockade. We are going to help it to maintain the blockade. To talk of sending infantry to the continent, either from here or from Britain is madness, of course. But the other weapon, though it may be slower, is more deadly."

AGREEMENT

IN ONE WAY the collapse of France has solved a great political problem for the United States government. So long as there was a chance of winning the war by expeditionary forces in France, the friends of the Allies in the United States felt that they must get a positive declaration of war against Germany, followed by military aid as in the last war. They knew, however, that if they attempted to get such a declaration the nation would be completely split, politics would be in chaos, months of debate would precede any action by Congress and in the end Congress might refuse to declare war, pushing the country further into isolation.

Now, as there is no thought of sending an expeditionary force Britain can be assisted without a declaration of war, for the present anyway. If the war lasts long, it is my belief, war will be declared, but in the meantime the nation is united on the existing policy of sending all aid short of war, which means short of soldiers. No argument or problem arises.

ISOLATIONISTS AGAIN

THE INTERPRETATION of aid short of war, however, varies, and it is evident that in the last few days the administration has been having more trouble with the isolationists. That must be the meaning of the President's reiterated assurance that no American soldiers will ever fight in Europe. Remember that this is an election year, the Republicans are against war, and a majority of the people are against it. War for the moment—that is, formal war—is not practical politics, is not possible, even though the United States actually is in the war at this moment.

The hand of the isolationists can be seen in the latest statute passed by Congress which forbids the export of any war material owned by the army or navy unless it is certified to be of no use to these services at home. This means that Britain will not get much more of the army and navy's supplies, if any—it must rely on the new output of American factories. But it was relying mostly on that in any case since obviously the destitute American navy had little of anything to spare to anyone.

Elmore Philpott

THIS IS A MAN

WHEN I listened to Churchill on Sunday, in what will almost certainly be his last important speech before the Nazi forces attempt their invasion of Britain, I felt that we were not only listening to an historic utterance, but to a man whose own force of character is worth a whole army. Thank God for Winston Churchill. If there ever was a man in the right place at the right moment surely he is that man. They shall not pass as long as Churchill is Prime Minister.

The more I try to look at what is happening in the world at broad perspective the more sure I am that what is going on is, at bottom, a war of ideologies. If the Apostle Paul were alive today we might say that we wrestle not with flesh and blood but with principalities and powers. The clash of great fleets of tanks and planes is but the materialization of the battle of ideas—launched years and years ago by poets, prophets and philosophers. Hitler's secret weapon is not a new death ray or poison gas. It is that he has harnessed for his own purposes of world conquest the power of suggestion, the force of an evil idea.

When a great French writer said that mightier than an army is an idea whose hour has come he was not just stringing together a group of words. He was recording what is as real a fact as that man must eat to stay alive. Ideas are more powerful than dynamite and good ones stronger than bad.

TOWER

IT IS BECAUSE Churchill is such a tower of strength in this war of ideologies, as well as such a bonny fighter in the actual day to day struggle, that we should feel grateful that he is where he is. His record shows that on some matters he is far apart from his present Labor colleagues. It was Churchill who was chiefly responsible for the fact that revolutionary Russia was forced to defend herself on 14 fronts. It was he who almost got us into war with Turkey in 1922. His attitude on progressive extension of home rule to India was much more conservative than that of most of his associates in his own party and in his own social class.

But on the one thing which matters most right now Churchill has stood like the rock of Gibraltar.

Radio News Gag Plan Repugnant to Free Men

From Toronto Telegram

At Ottawa a movement is under way to give the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation complete control of all news broadcast in Canada. The suggestion is a shock to those who should be stoutly resisted by everyone who believes in freedom of expression for Canadians. The proposal is not a wartime measure, but one that would at any time give the government in power at the moment control through its creature, the CBC, of all news disseminated by radio. It is a thoroughly iniquitous suggestion, whether the government in power be a Liberal government or a Conservative government. A monopoly of any channel of news is utterly repugnant to free men. The CBC has abundantly demonstrated its incompetence to maintain an independent existence. Its broadcasts have constantly been loaded with government propaganda while no event remotely critical of the government has been allowed to go over its stations. To make this government department the authority to say what Canadians might hear from Canadian stations is going back to conditions similar to those against which the grandfather of W. L. M. King rebelled.

Such a development would be worse than the situation created by the war censors to whose ministrations Canadian newspapers must bow on the supposition that it is in the national interest. But the control of radio news is not contemplated as merely a wartime measure but as a permanent infringement on Canadian liberty.

In defence of the proposal it has been stated that the bulletins carried by a number of independent newscasters have been, in their result, confusing rather than comprehensive, and that the plethora of news reports over the air has turned radio into a

It comes down in the end to Britain's ability to stand the siege on its own resources until the autumn fogs start, and until the United States airplane industry gets into its stride. Until then there will be no large new help from the United States. However, the force of America's latent industrial power should be felt and in the end Britain can become supreme in the air with American support. And no question of ability to pay for war materials will interfere with that support.

The most eloquent passage in his book, "The Aftermath," deals with England's basic policy for four centuries and begins thus: "For the fourth time in four successive centuries she had headed and sustained the resistance of Europe to a military tyranny. . . . These four great series of events, directed unswervingly to the same end through so many generations, constitute a record of persistency and achievement without parallel in the history of ancient or modern times."

IN TIME

THE BEST PROOF that I know of that Churchill is the man for the hour is the fact that he is where he is today because the pressure of an idea carried him there. Public memory is remarkably short. This time last year Mr. Churchill was not even in the cabinet. He stood where he had stood for the previous five years—warning his own party and his own country that the policy of continued retreat in the face of the beasts of aggression, roaring like wild animals which had scented prey, was not only dishonorable but a short cut to complete disaster. It is one of the ironies of history that this man who week after week, month after month, year after year, had opposed the policies of the government should have been called in after the war against which he had warned them in vain had actually come, and when it was impossible to meet it as it should have been met.

"All history," writes someone, "is a record of the right remedies applied too late." Time and time again that has been true. Many of the youngsters hereabouts would not now be enlisted to fight and the world would not be on the verge of added disaster if the Churchills had been listened to in 1936, 1937, 1938, 1939 instead of 1940.

Even so, I believe that Churchill arrived in time. For what commander in all history ever spoke to those whose fate depended in part on his own leadership with more of the qualities which inspire confidence than the Prime Minister spoke on Sunday? One could literally feel the power. There was no boastfulness, no mock heroics. But he said: "We fight by ourselves, but not for ourselves alone." I for one felt more confident than I had ever felt before.

REINDEER INCREASING

Canadian Resources Bulletin

With the number of reindeer in the Canadian Arctic now estimated at about 6,600 head, Canada's reindeer industry has made satisfactory progress in the five years since the original herd of 2,370 animals was delivered from Alaska.

Reports on this year's fawning, received by the Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa, indicate an increase of about 1,200 fawns to the main herd now on summer range on Richard's Island, a short distance off the Arctic coast. This brings the number of animals in this herd up to approximately 5,000. In addition, the fawn increase of the native herd, located in the Anderson River area, about 150 miles eastward, is estimated at 500 head, making a total of approximately 1,600 reindeer in this herd. The native herd was established in December, 1938, when about 950 deer were transferred from the main herd and placed under Eskimo management, subject to government supervision.

Plans have been made for the establishment of a second native herd in the Horton River area, about 100 miles east of the first native herd. Next winter about 800 reindeer will be separated from the main herd at the reindeer station and herded overland for about 250 miles.

Italy's complaint that the democracies owe her a soft living recalls the story of the citizen who was accosted at a dark corner. "Excuse me, sir," whined the stranger, "but could you spare something for a poor fellow who has nothing in the world but a loaded revolver?"

You cannot keep anything precious in this world unless you are willing to die for it.—Dean Virginia Gildersleeve of Barnard College.

DUNCAN OFFICER DIES IN FRANCE

Word was received last night from the War Office, London, that Lieutenant A. F. Galloway, Duncraig, of the Royal Engineers, was killed in action at Lapanne, France, June 5.

Lieut. Galloway's death was included in the War Office's 25th casualty list, which contained 942 names and covered an unspecified period. It listed 62 killed, 23 died of wounds, 10 died, 158 missing, 675 wounded, six missing and believed killed and eight believed to be prisoners.

Lieut. Galloway is the first Cowichan man to be killed in action overseas.

He was well known in Duncan. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Galloway, are residing at present in the up-island town.

Lieut. Galloway was born in Kafault, India, a police station in the Himalaya Mountains, where his father was employed as a policeman, on September 29, 1914. "His education began at Aberdeen Grammar School and later he spent a year in London. Coming to this country with his parents, he continued his studies at North Vancouver and Courtenay, where he took his matriculation.

A year after finishing high school, Lieut. Galloway went to Royal Military College at Kingston, Ontario. He led the 1936 class and obtained highest marks for the four-year term. Among many awards won were the Governor-General's medal and the Lieutenant Governor's medal. Lieut. Galloway spent some time training in Chatham, England, where he gained the Fowke medal. He joined the Royal Engineers and served with the 59th Field Company.

Weddings

BOMFORD—GIBBS YOUNG—WILLIAMS

A quiet double wedding was solemnized by Rev. G. R. B. Kinney Sunday afternoon when Miss Kathleen Muriel Gibbs, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Gibbs of Shawanigan Lake, was married to Mr. Wilfred Tunstall Bomford, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bomford of Cherry Point, and Miss Margaret Williams, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Williams, Shawanigan Lake, became the wife of Mr. Ralph Young, elder son of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Young.

Miss Gibbs, who was given in marriage by her father, was smartly attired in a dark grey ensemble with navy blue accessories and carried a beautiful bouquet. Miss Williams was given in marriage by her mother and wore a navy blue ensemble and a corsage bouquet. Both brides were unattended. Mr. Edwin Young supported his brother and Mr. Norman Bomford supported his bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs. Only immediate relatives and close friends were present. Mr. and Mrs. Bomford are spending their honeymoon on the mainland. Both couples will reside in Shawanigan.

Government House Will Be Scene of Huge Fete

All roads will lead to Government House on Wednesday afternoon, July 31, when an "all-Victoria" garden party will be held for the purpose of raising funds for the Red Cross.

At a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the headquarters of the Red Cross, Belmont Building, Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, who is convening this mammoth fete, outlined her plans and reported the progress made towards what is already hallmarked as an outstanding social and philanthropic success.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor will formally open the fete, and patronesses will be Mrs. T. D. Pattullo, Mrs. Victor G. Brodeur, Mrs. C. V. Stockwell and Mrs. A. Earl Godfrey.

The grounds in themselves are a great attraction, and, judging from some of the entertainment planned there is going to be something doing every moment and events to interest every visitor, no matter of what age or what their tendencies or tastes. Just as an insight to the variety of the program it may be mentioned in a preliminary way that some of the leading golf exponents of the city are planning two distinct events, and on the spectacular side of the program is to be a Hawaiian scene comprising a procession in a flower-decked canoe and native dancing on the lawn.

There will be a score of interesting stalls, selling everything from home-baked bread to Bahama bags and a baby-stall. Tea will be served by the Women's Canadian Club and it is stressed that tea and admission tickets are only half-price for children. Everyone is urged to get Wednesday afternoon, July 31, free for this gala gathering on the beautiful lawns of Government House.

Clubwomen's News

A meeting of the municipal and primary chapter war work conveners of the I.O.E. will be held at headquarters next Monday evening at 7.30. It is important that each chapter be represented and all conveners attend.

The business meeting of the Victoria Women's Institute will be held on Friday at 2.15 p.m. at 635 Fort Street. Members are asked to bring novelties for the Solarium Women's Auxiliary stall at the fall fair. A delegate will be chosen to attend the provincial conference on August 28.

A successful silver tea was held by the Craigflower W.I. at the home of Mrs. Clair. Pupils of Betty Clair entertained. Diane Colton, Josie Shaw and Norma Corke did an Irish jig, and Iris De Meres, Beverly Bradley, Joan Hume, Dennis Kempton, Enid Middleton and Doreen McManus danced a Mexican dance. Enid Middleton sang "There Will Always Be An England." The beautiful quilt went to Dorothy Smart. The annual picnic will be held at Elk Lake, August 11. All who can were asked to meet at the home of Mrs. Rankin every Thursday afternoon to do refugee work. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames Colton, Du Val, Clair, Corke, Dickson, Gouge, Fieldhouse and Polly Bell.

The Victoria Housewives' League met recently at 301 Union Building. Arrangements were made for a basket picnic to be held on Friday at the Japanese tea gardens at 11 a.m. Mrs. Bennett, who presided, reported that the social committee was planning a good time for both children and grown-ups. Members were asked to telephone E 0709 or E 0604 with offers of help. Mrs. Harper of the education committee gave a short talk on useful economies which helped the household budget, and submitted several original recipes. Miss D. Ashdown reported correspondence with the Wartime Prices Board at Ottawa, drawing attention to apparent cases of profiteering shown in higher rates of dividends earned by food firms.

Miss Jean Halliday, whose marriage to Mr. Fred Temblatte will take place soon, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous party shower held by Mrs. J. T. S. Wilson, Gordon Head, recently. On their arrival, the bride-to-be was presented with a corsage bouquet of Talsman roses and the groom-to-be's mother received a corsage of carnations. The pretty and useful gifts were concealed in a decorated watering can. Games and contests were enjoyed and a buffet supper was later served. The invited guests included Mesdames F. Temblatte, W. Tucker, J. Townsend, M. Gillan, K. Campbell, R. Clark, J. Dunnett, G. Elliott; Misses Dorothy Humes, Ynes Stewart, Eileen Welchman and Barbara Wilson.

Describes Pre-Nazi Days in Denmark

A vivid picture of Denmark prior to the German invasion was given at yesterday's luncheon meeting of the Soroptimists' Club by Mrs. Gordon Downes. Mrs. Downes and her daughter returned to Victoria recently after three years' residence in Copenhagen, which they left on the eve of the Nazi occupation.

In her brief talk she touched upon the characteristics of the Danish people, describing them as great lovers of home, freedom and out-of-doors, with one of the most advanced educational systems, and with progressive social legislation, which provided care for the aged, cheap hospitalization and a measure of dignity little recognized in most other countries for household assistants.

Miss Marjorie Holmes, the president, was in the chair and thanked the speaker for her delightfully intimate talk. The generosity of the American Soroptimists in voting, at their recent Salt Lake City convention, the sum of $1,500 for an ambulance to be given to Britain; $250 to the British Red Cross and $250 to the American Red Cross, and $500 for assistance of needy Soroptimist members in England was the subject of a special resolution of thanks, which will be forwarded by the local club to the president of the United States federation. Mrs. Fred Robertson, who went as a delegate to the Salt Lake City convention, was thanked for her report.

Two Sacramento club members, Miss Aileen Hyde and Miss Jean Wingalls, were welcomed to the luncheon; also Miss Dorothy Davies, who is arranging a dramatic entertainment to take place in the Memorial Hall on July 26, in aid of the Soroptimist war charities fund.

Mr. Eric W. James of Winnipeg has arrived on a visit to his mother, Mrs. A. I. Cowan, 1452 Vining Street.

Miss Barbara Winslow has returned to Vancouver to resume her course at the summer school at the U.B.C. after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Winslow, for the weekend. Mr. Winslow, who has been in Alaska, has returned home.

Girls of the B.C. Police motor record office, Parliament Buildings, under the convener of Miss Verna Hart, gave a kitchen shower on Monday night in compliment to Miss Florence Foyer, a bride-to-be. The affair took place at the home of Mrs. G. Jones, 2587 Dalhousie Street, which was prettily decorated with flowers. Miss Rose Steele and Miss Wynne Spencer poured the tea and coffee. The invited guests were as follows: Mesdames D. Clarke, H. Grayshaw, D. Elliott, T. Thompson, I. Moore, E. McIntosh and Misses M. Thomson, R. Steele, N. Johnson, V. Jacklin, M. Metro, J. Thorburn, S. Jones, E. Bourne, E. Kay, H. Walker, K. Burns, C. Crawford, I. Cassillo, R. Norris, F. Byatt, M. Winterbottom, E. Thaites, J. McGraw, S. Sangster, L. Zarelli, R. Webster, J. Robinson, M. Armstrong, D. Hemming, A. Pattinson, E. Bessette, V. Ross, D. Jeeves, E. Koppock, F. Porter, F. Wood, R. Balcon, M. Cownden, M. Dykes, D. King, E. Watson, G. Evans, M. Hood, J. Wilson, P. Cox, J. Smith, D. Neate, M. Lindgren, E. Brinn and A. Chaney.

The Misses Daisy Evans and Eileen Carley were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower at the home of the former on Rainbow Road, Ganges, on Monday evening for Miss Ruth Goodrich, whose marriage to Mr. George Heineke takes place tomorrow. The rooms were decorated in a color scheme of mauve and white, and on her arrival the guest of honor was presented with a bouquet of white and mauve scabious and stocks and fern. She was then led to a basket-trimmed in mauve and white, and in complement to the intended bridegroom's profession of mining engineer, surmounted with a huge imitation gold nugget, and filled with many gifts.

Among those present were Misses June and Mary Bennett, Natalie Jamski, Nan and Helen Ruckie, Nancy Baker, Jean McDermott, Edna Newnham, Rita and Muriel Dewhurst, Winnifred Cathrop, Mildred Adams, Jean Mouat, Doris Campbell, Iris Goodrich, Phyllis Beech, Beatrice May, Tilly Akerman, Gerta Halley, Eileen Carley, Mrs. W. P. Evans, Mrs. J. Abbott and others. During the evening several amusing games and competitions were enjoyed, and later dainty buffet refreshments were served by the young hostesses.

GALLOPING TEAS, SOCIETY'S LATEST

NEW YORK—Tea will be the refuelling power for hundreds of society women who will meet and knit over what is to be called galloping teas—the first of which is to be held at the home of Mrs. Wales Latham.

Although the weather may be a bit close, the women who have the Bundles for Britain war charity close to their hearts are not forgetting that fall and winter are coming and with bad weather ships will be less frequent—therefore it behooves them to knit rapidly while there still are ships to carry the Bundles for Britain. Mrs. Latham has asked six guests to tea, all of whom are participating in the organization's knitting activities. Each of today's guests has promised to hold a similar tea this week asking six guests, and each of these in turn will ask six more.

This makes a sort of official chain stitch in knitting and the galloping teas will soon take on a national aspect as the branches of Bundles for Britain all over the country fill their cups and their quota of knitted items.

The urgent need is for more pullover sweaters, seaboot stockings, scarfs, helmets and socks. Guests who will inaugurate the Tea for Six are Mrs. Lowell Weicker, Mrs. William Walker Kennedy, Mrs. Eugene Delafield, Mrs. Landon Humphreys, Princess Kyril Scherbatow and Natalie Merrill.

U.S. Women Appeal For 'Mercy Ships'

NEW YORK (AP)—A national campaign urging the United States government to dispatch "mercy ships" to remove refugee children from Britain was launched last night by the "Women's Committee to Send Ships for European Children."

Declaring that "we are not an organization—we are a group of individual women," the committee in a full page advertisement in the New York Times urged the women of the United States to ask President Roosevelt to "send ships for the imperiled children in England—rich and poor alike." The appeal included among its signers actress Helen Hayes, Dorothy Canfield Fisher, writer, and Mrs. Henry Sloane Coffin, wife of the president of Union Theological Seminary.

J. P. Bickell Aids British Plane Works

TORONTO (CP)—J. P. Bickell, Toronto mining executive, has gone to London to assist Lord Beaverbrook in the wartime speedup of airplane production. Bickell's office announced today. Also associated in the work are two other Canadians, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, former Prime Minister, and Beverley Baxter, Canadian-born member of the British Parliament.

The four "B's" will conduct one of Britain's most important war efforts, namely, the attainment of supremacy over Germany in aircraft production.

Lord Beaverbrook himself is a native of New Brunswick. Bickell, friend of Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario, is an aviation enthusiast and has his own private plane. In 1938 he flew with Premier Hepburn on a tour of the Canadian northwest. He is president of the rich McIntyre-Porcupine Mines Ltd. and his other financial interests embrace mines, banks, life insurance and nickel.

He is a native of Mount Forest, Ont. Lord Beaverbrook cabled: "If you will come here and assist me we would welcome you." Bickell replied immediately and left by plane for London within a few days.

Who Is Sousa? M.P.'s Inquire

OTTAWA (CP)—An offer by a mysterious "Mr. Sousa" to finance the proposed Alberta provincial bank, and its acceptance by Premier Abernethy two years ago, was revealed at a sitting of the Commons banking and commerce committee.

Hon. Solon Low, provincial treasurer, told the story of Mr. Sousa under questioning by G. H. Ross, Liberal, Calgary East. While the committee was considering Alberta's application for a provincial bank charter.

Mr. Sousa was head of a United States syndicate which wanted to establish a provincial bank in Alberta to handle the financing of a projected highway through that province to Alaska, Mr. Low said. Nothing came of his proposal.

Mr. Ross asked Mr. Low if he knew Sousa was a "house-to-house peddler," but the witness said he was not aware of it. Mr. Low said an option had been given the Sousa group to refinance Alberta's debt, but the option had not been taken up.

WANT INFORMATION

Cries of "who is Mr. Sousa" were shouted by committee members when his name first crept into the discussion. Mr. Low declared all the negotiations with him were the result of Mr. Sousa's proposals to the government.

Mr. Sousa's initials or other identification were not disclosed. Mr. Low claimed the provincial bank would be operated by the provincial government in such a way that it would fill a need not filled by existing banks but would remain within the regulations which govern all banks.

Under present circumstances, chartered banks will not loan on other than iron-clad security unless they have a provincial guarantee, he said. It was now proposed that the government, instead of guaranteeing chartered banks against loss, would handle the loans itself and not only take the risk of loss but enjoy whatever profits might accrue.

Operated by the government, a provincial bank would make loans to struggling industries, finance feeder associations designed to improve livestock and generally operate to build up the industrial life of the province.

New British Courts May Impose Death

LONDON (CP)—Special war zone courts proposed under the Emergency Powers Act would have power to impose the death penalty for looting or for forcing way past a military sentry, Home Secretary Sir John Anderson told the House of Commons.

There would be no juries and no appeal from the decisions of these courts.

The courts are authorized under the special act introduced July 10. Sir John said the reason was to provide a simpler, faster procedure than the normal processes of justice. He stated the government had no intention of using the courts until a critical situation arose, and that this might never come.

Salmon, Oh, Salmon!
Where Have You Gone?

THAT IS THE TUNE Brentwood fishermen are singing to themselves these days. But not with any note of glee. The boys are getting really worried, especially after last Sunday when hundreds returned from a day's outing either skunked or with a few tiddlers to show. It was the worst competition day in the history of the angler's association. Some of the experts laid the blame at the door of Mr. Blackfish but other veterans, who have been fishing Saanich Inlet for years, take a more serious view of the situation.

As one old salt remarked to us, "Too many launches." Those three words, he claimed, were the solution of poor fishing at the arm. "I can remember a few years back when it was not necessary to go beyond Malaspina Bay to hook a salmon. And one did not have to use wire line either, just good old cuttyhunk with a little bit of weight," he said. "Then the fishing started to become more popular and with a result more people went. Now today I am using 1500 feet long with a planer or three or four pounds on a trip weight. You can't call that good fishing."

When we asked him for a solution his reply was something like this, "Let everybody go back to the rowboat. Let's work for our fish, but it will pay dividends in the long run. The fish will not be driven deep and one will not have to use half a hardware store to get some real sport. He also expressed a note of warning to the boys who have been getting such fine sport out of the salmon fishing at Cowichan Bay in the fall. "They should take steps now to keep the big launches at a minimum or that light tackle fishing up there will be spoiled."

Over a cup of coffee today we listened to a lacrosse supporter hold forth on the manner in which the box games are being conducted at the Willows. Apparently this party attended a large number of games in eastern Canada and Vancouver before taking up residence here. After visiting the Willows several times to watch the local gutted stick lads perform he is of the opinion the referees and managers will kill the sport here if they don't take immediate steps to eliminate player-referee difficulties.

"Players should never be allowed to question a referee's decision and, when told to go off, should not be given the opportunity to stand around and argue," he remarked. "The referees are too easy and, another thing, they don't know the rules. The commission should send their officials over to Vancouver and let them watch some good referees work. And the managers should not condone a player arguing about taking a penalty. The real fans do not appreciate such tactics and continuance of such will result in loss of support."

Attention, race horse fans. Colorful life story of Seabiscuit, leading money winner of all time, is off the presses and now on sale. The book, entitled, "Seabiscuit, the Saga of a Great Champion," is 25,000 words in length and is profusely illustrated. Tale of Seabiscuit's dramatic rise from "rags to riches," includes his sensational triumph over War Admiral, and the climax of his career, his victory in the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap. The story is by Brainerd K. Beckwith, field secretary of the California Breeders' Association, with an introduction by Grantland Rice, famous sports authority.

The event will be 18 holes medal play, on handicap, and is open to all members of Victoria clubs. Play will commence at 11 and entrants will select own partners and starting time. The directors of the Colwood Club have donated the use of the course for the occasion and all money received will be turned over to the campaign.

NEW YORK (AP) — Lew Jenkins, little Texan with the murderous punch, receives his greatest testing tonight when he fights Henry Armstrong, welter-weight champion, at the Polo Grounds.

Jenkins enters the ring tonight as the lightweight champion of the world, possibly to prove he is one of the greatest little scrap-pers there ever has been.

If Jenkins does beat Armstrong tonight, then he's really good. For Armstrong, even though he might be a year or so past his very best, still is an awful lot of fighting man.

Personally, Armstrong looks the better bet, and the book-makers still have him a substantial favorite. It's difficult to picture a skinny, rawboned boy like Jenkins absorbing Henry's body punishment for 12 rounds. Still, the Texas has that punch, and Armstrong never has been hard to hit.

The title of neither is at stake. Each of them is assured of a handsome purse, for promoter Mike Jacobs expects the game to total around $160,000, granted clear weather.

NO DEMPSEY TUNNEL ROUT

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey won't square off against each other in the boxing ring for charity.

"Absurd," Gene commented on reports he was contemplating such a bout. "I gave up the ring 12 years ago, and have no intentions of ever returning to it in an active capacity," the former heavy-weight champion said.

Hagen's Forces In Golf Lead

DETROIT (AP) — Fleggy Gene Sarazen, on the spot with his team of challengers, faced the uncomfortable prospect today of having to swallow a boast that his own chosen stars could whip the Ryder Cup team.

It will take some miracle of golf for the Connecticut gentleman-farmer to avert such a fate. His handpicked squad trailed Walter Hagen's crew, 3 to 1, after yesterday's rounds.

All the challengers had to do to save face in this battle for charity and supremacy was to get hot today and win six of the eight singles matches. Even Sarazen admitted this wasn't an easy task.

Little plays. To strengthen his team he inserted himself and Lawson Little, new national open champion, into the line-up, replacing Tommy Armour of Chicago and Jimmy Thomson of Chicopee, Mass., victims of an 8 and 7 trimming yesterday at the hands of Byron Nelson of Toledo, O., and Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Winchester, Mass.

Little, unable to play in the opening matches, had his work cut out for him, however. He faced Horton Smith of Oak Park, Ill., who teamed with Paul Runyan of White Plains, N.Y., to whip Craig Wood of New York and Billy Burke of Cleveland 2 up.

Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., and Dick Metz of Chicago got the jump at the start on young Ed Oliver or Hornell, N.Y., and Light-horse Harry Cooper, Chicago veteran, and won, 5 and 4. Jimmy Demaret and Ben Hogan, fellow Texans, carried a 1-up victory over Ralph Guldahl, ex-open king, and Sammy Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va.

Williamsport, Pa. (AP) —

Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey won't square off against each other in the boxing ring for charity.

"Absurd," Gene commented on reports he was contemplating such a bout. "I gave up the ring 12 years ago, and have no intentions of ever returning to it in an active capacity," the former heavy-weight champion said.

Hagen's Forces In Golf Lead

DETROIT (AP) — Fleggy Gene Sarazen, on the spot with his team of challengers, faced the uncomfortable prospect today of having to swallow a boast that his own chosen stars could whip the Ryder Cup team.

It will take some miracle of golf for the Connecticut gentleman-farmer to avert such a fate. His handpicked squad trailed Walter Hagen's crew, 3 to 1, after yesterday's rounds.

All the challengers had to do to save face in this battle for charity and supremacy was to get hot today and win six of the eight singles matches. Even Sarazen admitted this wasn't an easy task.

Little plays. To strengthen his team he inserted himself and Lawson Little, new national open champion, into the line-up, replacing Tommy Armour of Chicago and Jimmy Thomson of Chicopee, Mass., victims of an 8 and 7 trimming yesterday at the hands of Byron Nelson of Toledo, O., and Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Winchester, Mass.

Little, unable to play in the opening matches, had his work cut out for him, however. He faced Horton Smith of Oak Park, Ill., who teamed with Paul Runyan of White Plains, N.Y., to whip Craig Wood of New York and Billy Burke of Cleveland 2 up.

Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., and Dick Metz of Chicago got the jump at the start on young Ed Oliver or Hornell, N.Y., and Light-horse Harry Cooper, Chicago veteran, and won, 5 and 4. Jimmy Demaret and Ben Hogan, fellow Texans, carried a 1-up victory over Ralph Guldahl, ex-open king, and Sammy Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va.

GOOD BALL GAME EXPECTED TONIGHT

A fine brand of baseball should be witnessed this evening at Athletic Park when leading Athletics and Eagles meet in an important Rithet Cup fixture. The Eagles are trailing the clubmen by a couple of games and will give everything they have tonight to bag a victory, as a win would improve their playoff chances.

Manager Scotty Robinson of the 'A's is expected to throw Schoolboy Rowe right back at the Eagles, figuring he has the Indian sign on the Eagles. The last time Rowe heaved against the birdmen he came out with a 7 to 2 triumph. Eagles will use Stan Davies on the hillcock. Game will start at 6.

Idle Reds Gain

Soundest baseball combination in the big show seems to be Cincinnati Reds, who can repeat their National League championship if they don't drop dead. Even the Reds are not irresistible and the rain in Cincinnati yesterday didn't do them any harm.

Brooklyn Dodgers folded up in front of Pittsburgh Pirates 5 to 3 and increased Cincinnati's first-place margin to three and a half games.

In the American League the only first-division club that didn't bite the dirt was Boston, whose Red Sox had an idle day.

Cleveland lost its third straight and the series to the weird Washington Senators, who made four errors and still couldn't give the game back to the Indians.

Detroit Tigers bowed to the Philadelphia Athletics 3 to 1, but continued to hold a slim lead in the league race.

Fred Hutchinson, the $75,000 pitching wonder of the Tigers, made his first start since returning from the minors and rendered a six-hitter, striking out six and walking none. But three of the hits coupled with one of two errors by Pinkey Higgins gave the A's two runs in the third.

Johnny Rigney stopped the world champion New York Yankees again on six hits as Chicago White Sox plastered Maris Russo for an even dozen and the ball game, 5 to 1.

But New York Giants, so-called contenders and third-place fixtures in the National League, again showed up everybody in the futility department by getting shut out 2 to 0 in Chicago.

Harry Gumbert allowed only four hits, but in the seventh inning two walks and an error filled the bases and Phil Cavaretta singled home the winning runs.

The only bright spot on the baseball map continued to be St. Louis, where the Cardinals beat Boston Bees 4 to 3 for their sixth consecutive victory.

COAST LEAGUE

Oakland smarted today under the initial defeat in the "blood" series of the Coast League. The champion Rainiers of Seattle dropped the Oaks last night 3 to 2.

Every loss means a full game's setback to the second place Oaks, now nine games in the ruck. If by some of Manager Johnny Ver-

Senior Softball Playoffs Open

Baseball Standings

Lower island senior softball playoffs will get underway tomorrow night with Brunsdon's Veterans and Cameron Lumber nines, facing each other at Athletic Park. They will battle over a best-of-three game route, with the victor advancing to oppose Victoria Longshorem in the final.

Brunsdon's copped the third playoff spot last night when they emerged victors in a ragged exhibition over Longshorem by a 7 to 4 count at Athletic Park. Garrison's chances for a playoff position were killed when they went down to a 4 to 1 defeat at the hands of Camerons at Victoria West.

Stevevares were way off form last night and their performance was no credit to them. The game was close for practically the whole way, the score knotted at 4 to 4 at the end of the eighth.

Brunsdon's played good ball the whole route. They used Harold Turner and Al Bridger on the hillcock, the latter getting credit for the win. Between them they gave up eight hits.

"Rogers" Hornsby went to the mound for the Longshorem. He might have changed the final picture on the scoreboard had his support been better. He yielded eight safeties.

Scoring one run in the second, two in the third and another in the fourth, Camerons posted a 4 to 1 win over Garrison to eliminate them from further competition in the city championship fight. The vanquished nine got its only run in the seventh.

In the opening game of D section playoffs at Central Park, Equimault A. A. beat Chinese Recreation Club 5 to 4.

Score by innings:

SEATTLE (AP) — Byron Page, Seattle racketeer, was tossed the first upset into the Washington State tennis tournament yesterday when he eliminated Budge Patty, ace California junior, in the men's singles at the Seattle Tennis Club.

Page won a marathon set in the opening test at 108 and then swept through the second set at 6-1.

Harold Wagner of San Francisco, defending champion, advanced another round when he eliminated Hugh McGinnis of Portland, but he was pressed to do so, dropping seven games, but the stocky titleholder won out, 6-4, 6-3.

Faul Blugard of Seattle dropped another Californian out of the tournament when he took the measure of John Howard of Los Angeles in an interesting duel, winning the first set at 6-3 and then being forced to a deuced decision at 7-5 to end the match.

Emory Neale, Portland star, beat Jim Brink, Seattle's ace junior, in the men's singles, but it took the Oregonian three sets to turn the trick at 6-3, 0-6 and 6-4.

Helen Gurley, Dorothy Head and Joann Brooke, high-ranking Californians, had little difficulty in the women's singles, each winning, while Helen Wright, Seattle city champion, advanced another round in this division of play by trimming La Verne Kapps, 9-7, 6-4.

Meet Local Stars for Red Cross

Vancouver Burrards vs. Victoria All-Stars. That's the lacrosse dish to be offered Victoria fans at the Willows Sports Centre the night of July 26. As an added feature all the profits will be turned over to the Victoria branch of the Canadian Red Cross.

Announcement of the game was made today by Alex Main, secretary of the Greater Victoria Box Lacrosse Association. The local officials have been trying for some time to have a mainland club appear here, while the fans have also been clamoring for such an exhibition. When it was suggested to the Interclub League that one of their clubs visit here to play for the Red Cross, Burrards jumped at the opportunity to appear.

Burrards are in the thick of the fight for first place in the mainland league. Last night they moved into a tie with Richmond for second place, one point behind the Canadian champion New Westminster Adanacs, by defeating North Shore.

The Vancouver club boasts many prominent players, including Goalie Walt Lee, Jack and Roy Cavallin, Bill Morphet, Dale, Dickson, Matheson, F. Lee, McDonald and Bradford. Burrards will bring over 14 players and one referee.

Selection of the Victoria team to meet the visitors will take place later this week. It is expected about 18 players will be chosen along with a manager. The squad will be put through several stiff practices in preparation for such stiff competition. There will be an advance sale of tickets.

BAYS BEAT JOKERS

Last night at the Willows the James Bay club rallied in the last five minutes to defeat the Jokers 17 to 14 in a smart game before a small crowd. After taking an early lead and holding it until near the finish, the Jokers were forced to again finish on the wrong end of the score.

Jokers built up a 6 to 2 lead at the end of the first quarter; were on top 9 to 6 at the half and 13 to 9 at three-quarter time. It was in the final period the Bays put on the pressure, firing home eight goals to a lone counter by their opponents. Frank Doherty scored the tying goal, and Ralph Baker put the Bays ahead for the first time. The latter added another soon after and Ernie Ball scored the final counter.

Ralph Baker topped the Bay scorers with four goals, while Uttke and Overchick netted three apiece for the Jokers.

In the injury preliminary McLean's Bakery handed the Owl Drug a 16 to 13 setback.

Teams and scores follow:
James Bay — A. McKim, Mason 2, Ball 2, Anderson 1, Wallace, Doherty 1, Sargent, R. Baker 4, N. Baker 3, Clarke 1, E. McKim 2, C. Chapman 1.
Jokers — Skellern, Uttke 3, Maughn 2, Patrick 1, B. Blair, Gilchrist, Pridham 2, Allen, D. Blair 1, Ludbrook, Overchick 3, McLean 2, McLennan.

Ross and Brynjolfsson refereed the senior game, while Macmurchie and Levy handled the junior clash.

GAMES TOMORROW

Another great battle is looked for tomorrow night when the Bays and Alert Service clash. This game has been moved ahead from Friday night, owing to the fact the Bays will play at Nanaimo on Saturday.

Bays and Alerts are tied for first place and the winner will take undisputed possession of the lead. In their last meeting the Alerts scored a smart victory. In the preliminary, starting at 7, Owl Drug will oppose Douglas Tire.

Novikoff Leads In Coast Loop Batting

Temp. batting leadership is held by San Diego and Seattle with .288 and .287, respectively.

LOS ANGELES — Al Smith, 149th, Los Angeles, stopped Irwin Kapp, 147, Los Angeles (7).

Wants U.S. in War

MORRISTOWN, N.J. (AP)—Col. Henry Breckenridge, assistant secretary of war during the Wilson administration, believes the United States would be "a nation of fools" if it stood by and allowed Great Britain "to go down before the Nazi beast."

"We could send 1,000 of the finest pilots in the world to the British Isles to knock the Nazi bombers out of the skies like vultures struck by lightning and turn the tide of war," he told the local chapter of the Committee for the Defence of America by Aiding the Allies.

Pritchett Returns

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold Pritchett of Vancouver, president of the International Woodworkers of America, a C.I.O. union, returned to his native Canada July 12 when the United States immigration bureau refused to grant a further extension of his visitor's permit, it has been learned here.

A Justice Department official said Pritchett probably would apply for re-entry under an immigration visa. He had been in this country on a visitor's permit, which was renewed several times, but Thomas B. Shoemaker, acting immigration commissioner, declined a further extension when the latest renewal expired July 12.

CITY PUBLICIZED
IN BOSTON PAPER

"Victoria is a city of gardeners with a traditional background of the seas which offers its attractions to tourists and home-seekers," says the Christian Science Monitor of Boston, Mass., in a two-page spread of pictures and stories of the city in its July 1 issue.

Eight stories headed, "Busy Shipyards Revive Victoria's Marine History," "Victoria: A City of Gardens and Gardeners," "Victoria Reports Gains in New Boom," "Holly Bushes Play Big Role in Victoria," "Quiet Charming of Victoria Draw Visitors," "Victoria Attracts Tourists as 'Typical English City,'" "Early Political Leaders," and "Site for Trading Purposes Expanded Into Victoria," are included.

Five pictures supplement the stories. One picture, six columns wide, shows an air view of the city centred by the Inner Harbor. A five-column cut of the Parliament Buildings, a smaller picture of the buildings lit up at night, a close-up of the harbor and a typical home of the city are included also.

OFFERS SCHOOLS
FOR REGISTRATION

Facilities of British Columbia schools have been offered by the provincial government for use in connection with the national registration in mid-August.

Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, said today he has wired Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of National War Service, suggesting that schools, because of their central location in each district, would be of value.

Since the registration comes in the holiday season, the full accommodation of schools will be available.

Roy Lindley, who pleaded guilty last week to creating a public disturbance by fighting, was fined $10 by Magistrate Hall in the City Police Court this morning.

CIVIL SERVANTS
PLAN CREDIT UNION

Provincial government employees in the Victoria district propose to form a credit union, it was announced today.

A general meeting of all civil servants living in the district has been called for Friday night at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium to complete plans for the organization.

J. Pitcairn Hogg, legislative counsel, and E. K. De Beck, Inspector of Credit Unions, will speak.

A board of directors, a credit committee, supervisor committee, general manager and treasurer will be chosen.

Mr. De Beck pointed out today the credit union movement is expanding rapidly. In recent months the total number of chartered unions has been increased to 23 in the province.

Authority has now been given for the unions to purchase savings certificates as a patriotic measure.

GAS MASK FOR ANIMALS MOOTED

The question of preparedness for the welfare of animals in war-time was a subject of discussion at the regular monthly meeting of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, held in the society's room, 304 Jones Building.

In the event of war conditions developing here to the extent at present existing in England it was thought advisable to have some form of protection, such as gas masks, available for dogs, horses and possibly other animals. The subject will be gone into more thoroughly at the next meeting.

The inspector's report, comprising trips to outlying districts, showed much ground covered during the month in the prosecution of the society's work.

The next committee meeting will be held in September.

Cases of cruelty will be investigated by Inspector Smith, phone E 8351, or by telephoning the secretary-treasurer, A. Neville Smith, E 0514.

NO MARRIAGE RUSH

The marriage rush in Victoria did not reach nearly the proportions it did in other cities where men sought to escape eligibility for the first single men's draft.

Vital statistics office records show that on Saturday, first day of the general rush, six licenses were issued, four being of the special variety waiving the three-day waiting rule. On Monday 12 licenses were issued, three being special, and on Tuesday five licenses were issued.

This represents a small increase over the customary license applications. Ordinarily there were two or three applications a day and one or two special licenses a week.

Issuance of licenses and performance of civil marriages at the Courthouse here was discontinued early last year.

City Welfare
Down $37,081

Welfare disbursements in the city for the first half of 1940 are $37,081.83 below those for the first six months in 1939, the current cumulative total being $86,864.31 against $123,946.14 at June 30, 1939, according to figures released today by the city welfare office.

Assuming the city's share of the load to be 20 per cent of the total, the figure shows civic expenditure to date to be less than one-third of the annual appropriation fixed in the 1940 civic budget for that purpose.

The aggregate expenditure for the year to the end of June includes $48,433.41 for family units and $38,430.90 for single unemployed.

Costs for June alone amounted to $13,237.24 against $18,021.97 for the same month last year. Last month's total included $6,933.98 for married and $6,303.26 for single recipients. In June, 1939, family units received $12,442.68 and single $5,579.29.

DIED OF INJURIES
CAUSED BY MISHAP

William Edwin Stevenson, 3011 Quadra Street, met death as a result of injuries sustained in a car accident in Idaho on July 1.

was the verdict returned by a coroner's jury this morning at an inquest at Thomson's Funeral Home. Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, presided.

Archibald Stevenson, son of the deceased, testified he was driving a car, bearing his father and three other members of the family, on an open stretch of road four miles from Weiser, Idaho, when the accident occurred. He said he tried unsuccessfully to pass a milk truck several times and when finally it appeared safe to try again the milk truck swung over the middle line on to the wrong side of the road, right in his path.

Witness said he swerved to avoid an accident and his car turned over on the shoulder of the road.

Deceased, who complained of hurts, was taken to the hospital at Weiser and then to an auto camp. With his condition getting worse every day, it was decided on July 9 to rush him to Victoria in an ambulance. Attending doctor, Dr. E. S. McGrath of Weiser, gave his consent to the trip, and deceased arrived in Victoria on July 10. He succumbed at St. Joseph's Hospital on July 13.

Dr. Gordon McCurdy, Victoria, who conducted the post mortem, said death was caused when injuries to the chest cut off the blood supply to the brain.

The jury was composed of Ernest Harris, foreman; George Walton, Charlie Lewis, Edward Rigby, Ronald Glover and Ernest Rust.

Remain U.S. Citizens
While Serving Britain

WASHINGTON (AP) — The justice department said today that United States citizens in Great Britain need not fear loss of citizenship by enlisting in the Royal Air Force, as long as they do not take an oath of citizenship to a foreign power.

This statement was made in commenting on information from London that "great numbers" of Americans seeking to enlist in the R.A.F. had been "gratefully accepted."

Justice department officials said informally that enlistment in foreign armies was forbidden only when some portion of the action occurred within the territory or jurisdiction of the United States.

This means, it was said, that no one may enlist or recruit others for foreign military service while either is in the United States, nor may anyone provide transportation or encourage another to leave the United States for the purpose of enlisting abroad.

A citizen could leave on his own initiative, however.

LONDON (AP) — The possibility of forming aerial volunteers from the United States into special squadrons of the Royal Air Force was advanced by an authoritative source today.

"Great numbers" of Americans seeking to enlist in the R.A.F. have been "gratefully accepted," it was said.

"In time," the source added, American volunteers may "gradually be formed into flights and eventually into squadrons."

SOLDIERS, CIVILIANS
FIGHT IN ONTARIO

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Troops were brought into action here last night to halt trouble between soldiers and civilians.

A near riot occurred outside a refreshment bar at Dundas and Adelaide Streets, in the east London district. Only minor injuries resulted and a number of soldiers were reported placed under military arrest. City police stated the matter was being handled by the military authorities and no charges were laid.

When the trouble calmed reached Queen's Park Camp, a truckload of armed soldiers was rushed to the scene. For more than an hour, troops in battle dress and trench helmets, and carrying rifles, posted guard over two banks at the street intersection and a brewery warehouse. However, no property damage occurred.

Cause of the fight between uniformed men and civilians was not determined. It was the most serious outbreak since soldiers raided the Hollywood Dine and Dance Club several months ago. Military authorities indicated today some refreshment bars which have small dance floors are likely to be placed out of bounds to troops.

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP) — One person was killed and two were injured in an Italian air raid here last night. One invading plane was shot down.

Movie Drive Exceeds Mark

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian motion picture industry's win-the-war campaign was headed today for a swing over the top in a flutter of war savings stamps.

Unofficial estimates place at $650,000 the value of stamps and certificates sold for the special "movie night" performances last Monday.

It is expected that when all the 700 co-operating movie theatres have reported, the $1,000,000 objective will be surpassed.

Finance Minister Isley said in an Ottawa theatre Monday night that since the stamps and certificates were issued five weeks ago,
weekly sales had averaged $2-000,000—twice the amount
Ottawa expected.

Admission to the theatres called for the purchase of at least two 25-cent stamps, which became the property of the patron.
The theatre owners and film distributors donated their services and facilities.

Incomplete returns place Ontario at the top of the movie night list with sales of more than $300-
000. Toronto's share was $100-
000; Ottawa reported $17,000.
Other provinces and cities reported these incomplete estimates:

Prince Edward Island—$750.
Nova Scotia—$60,000.
New Brunswick—$28,000.
Quebec—$60,000.
Manitoba—$50,000; Winnipeg,
$40,000.
Saskatchewan—$30,000. Regina, $7,500; Moose Jaw, $2,000.
Alberta—$40,000; Calgary, $19-
000; Edmonton, $10,000.
British Columbia—$60,000;
Vancouver, $28,000; Victoria,
$3,000; Penticton, $3,500.

Bob Hope Stars At the Capitol

Production of "The Ghost Breakers," the mystery comedy which opens Saturday at the Capitol Theatre, was made in an atmosphere as bizarre as any picture produced at the Paramount studio since "The Cat and the Canary." Bob Hope and Paulette Goddard are the co-stars of both pictures. They are becoming so used to falling over skeletons, witnessing murders and hearing piercing screams, that they raise goose pimples only when they get cold.

Briefly, the story revolves around the inheritance of an old and supposedly haunted castle on an island off Cuba by Paulette Goddard, an American girl. Bob Hope, a radio gossip commentator, gets himself in a mess with a gangster.

Together they encounter hair-raising adventures and sidesplitting situations until finally they discover the real reason for the mystery surrounding the castle.

over he had met 14 hometown friends who are visiting, or who have made their homes in Victoria." There will be similar introductions next Friday.

Frank Turpan will again act
as master of ceremonies, and Miss Mabel Irvine's 7-piece old-time orchestra will provide the music. Many citizens and visitors have sent letters of appreciation of the concert. Members of the Girls' Drill Team have again offered their services to collect for the war effort.

Aguora Ranch became a going concern teeming with activities of grain harvesting. Among the laborers were Burgess Meredith and Lon Chaney Jr., both of stage and screen fame—and therein lies the answer to the picture. It wasn't an actual presentation of California ranch life. It was a Hollywood harvest.

It came about because Lewis
Milestone, ace director, insisted upon complete authenticity for the filming of the Hal Roach picture, "Of Mice and Men," which Milestone produced and directed for United Artists release. It will have its showing at the Atlas Theatre today.

He wanted no synthetic ranch;
he demanded the typical spot conceived by John Steinbeck in his now classic story of George and Lennie, the migratory workers.

VIGOROUS DRAMA OF MILITARY THEME

"The Fighting 69th," now at the Capitol Theatre, is more than just the story of a famous regiment, though it tells that story faithfully and well. In a large sense "The Fighting 69th" is symbolic of all the regiments which have served under the American flag. In terms of vigorous drama
it presents the soul of the regiment, the serious, determined side, and in so doing brushes
aside the usual farburles.

In the making of this picture something indescribable has been captured which, in today's cat-astroph-fearing world, leaves profound confidence in the invincibility of human faith and in divine omnipotence. And everyone who plays a part in its production is worthy of all praise.

OAK BAY THEATRE

"Find Livingstone!" with these words James Gordon Bennett, fiery publisher of the New York
Herald, dispatched Henry M.
Stanley on the greatest adventure known to man. Spencer Tracy, twice winner of the Academy Award, is in the role of the heroic newspaperman in Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "Stanley and Livingstone." 20th Century-Fox picture now at the Oak Bay Theatre.

CADET THEATRE

"Rose Marie" starring Nelson
Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald is now showing at the Cadet Theatre.

The beautiful...songs and outdoor scenic effects are outstanding in this film.

RIO THEATRE

Olivia de Havilland's wardrobe for Warner Bros. Technicolor production of "The Adventures of Robin Hood," in which she plays the leading feminine role opposite Errol Flynn, now showing at the Rio Theatre, is estimated to be worth approximately $10,000.

MERCY STOP MADE BY COAST STEAMER

Seriously ill and in need of immediate hospital care, the 12-year-old daughter of J. B. Bridge of Mayne Island was transferred at sea to Ss. Princess Marguerite yesterday morning at sunrise and today is resting comfortably in Vancouver.

Dr. McKay of Mayne Island late Monday evening telephoned Capt. R. W. McMurray, R.N.R., manager of the B.C. Coast Service, to see if one of his ships could stop off the island to pick up the girl.

Because the night steamer from Victoria to Vancouver does not go through Active Pass, Capt. McMurray telephoned Capt. Clifford Fenton of the Marguerite in Seattle, and asked him to make the mercy stop. The Marguerite reaches the Pass in daylight.

Because the Marguerite was on an international voyage, it was necessary for the C.P.R. to make special arrangements with Canadian customs and immigration officials. Everyone co-operated and the girl was taken aboard without mishap, with Capt. Fenton directing operations from the bridge. The girl's father accompanied her to Vancouver.

NEW AIR SERVICE

Victoria is now only about six days away from New Zealand—that is, by air. By steamer it takes nearly three weeks to reach the southern Dominion.

The new air-mail service between San Francisco and Auckland will be operated every two weeks, G. H. Gardiner, local postmaster, was advised this morning. The next plane will leave San Francisco July 27. The first northbound plane will leave Auckland July 20.

Postage rates to Hawaii will be 30 cents a half-ounce, to New Zealand 75 cents a half-ounce and to Australia 90 cents a half-ounce.

The postage rate to the Hawaiian Islands by China Clipper will also be 30 cents a half-ounce instead of 25 cents as formerly.

new opportunities for his wife and seven children, brought his family here aboard their home-made Ark of Juneau yesterday after an uneventful 48-hour voyage from Wrangell.

The vessel's how was damaged by collision with a log in Bradfield Canal and had to be repaired at Wrangell. The Satkos will remain here two or three days before continuing to Juneau, "end of the line," for this season.

GOING TO SPAIN

The former Dollar liner President Lincoln, well known at this port, is now the Spanish vessel Maria del Carmen and will sail from Longview at the end of this week for Spain, via the Panama Canal. She will then connect Spain with South America.

Bishop Dedicates New Mission Launch

Bishop H. E. Sexton yesterday afternoon dedicated and named a launch which will be used in Anglican Church mission work in Quatsino Sound, on the northwest coast of Vancouver Island.

The little craft was named Spindrift and its purchase was made possible through a legacy left by the late Mrs. Annie Jones of Victoria to the afternoon branch of the Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church Cathedral.

Mrs. M. W. Mackenzie, president of the W.A., was associated with the Bishop in the dedication ceremonies. She presented the launch to the Bishop, who thanked the women for their hard work and their thought of the isolated dwellers on the coast.

Spindrift is now at the Kingston Street plant of Armstrong Brothers. Next week she will be shipped to Port Alice by the B.C. Pulp Company.

Prize Court Seizes Italian Freighter

OTTAWA (CP)—The Italian freighter Capo Noli and its cargo have been seized by officers of a prize court at a Canadian port, it was reported unofficially last night. The Capo Noli was captured by a unit of the Canadian Navy in the St. Lawrence River the day Italy entered the war.

Cargo of the ship, which the crew attempted to scuttle when capture became evident, consisted of about 35,000 bushels of wheat and a large quantity of asbestos. The freighter is undergoing repairs in drydock at present.

President Liners Will Be Converted

SEATTLE (AP)—The former American Mail Line passenger ships President Jackson and President Grant, bought by the navy from the Maritime Commission, will be converted into navy transports here at an estimated expenditure of $2,000,000 in wages and materials.

The two were in the tow of tugs here today from Charleston, near Bremerton. The work will be done at the Todd shipyards.

Woman Joins Navy

LONDON (CP)—The first woman doctor was appointed today to the Royal Navy. She is Mrs. Genevieve Rewcastle, wife of C. S. Rewcastle, K.C., and presumably will give medical attention to the women's auxiliary services.

Atlantic Air Route To Be Resumed

LONDON (CP)—Weekly flying boat service begun last summer between Canada and England is likely to be resumed before the end of July, it was learned unofficially today.

Two craft, the Claret and the Clyde, "very much" like the Cabot and the Caribou which were used to establish the initial service, will fly from a base on the south coast of England via Falmouth and Botwood to Montreal and New York.

The ships will carry mail and "official" passengers, meaning diplomats and others with important government business.

Resumption of the service has been urged in many quarters, especially to permit more rapid communication between Canadian soldiers and their relatives in Canada, but it was explained the heavy demand for planes in the early stages of the war prevented re-establishment of the flights which had proved so successful in the trial stages.

One of the new ships probably will be in charge of Capt. Kelly Rogers, who commanded the Caribou on the first flight in August, 1939.

Hedley Mascot Nets $75,524 in Quarter

Hedley Mascot Gold Mines report for quarter ending June 30 shows 15,416 tons dry ore milled, $209,245.35 gross income, $75,524.26 estimated net profit, 3.33 cents per share before depreciation and depletion, 37 heads.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg grain exchange completed another dormant session today. The July futures failed to open, and only a few trades were made in October wheat futures.

The trades were largely minor domestic mill demands, and there was no indication of any export business.

Some interest was shown in the coarse grain pits with mills showing changed into net declines of fractions to more than a point, but some held part of the advantage to the finish. Transactions approximated 375,000 shares.

Down most of the session were United States Steel, Bethlehem, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Chrysler, Douglas, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Loft, Western Union, American Can and Santa Fe.

J. I. Case spurred 2½ on a single transaction. Also higher most of the time were Allied Chemical, Consolidated Edison, Caterpillar, Union Carbide and U.S. Rubber. A rise in bonds tapered into a narrow side-wise market.

Early Rally Fades

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market dropped back into the doldrums today after an early attempt to resume an advance.

When the rally manoeuvre struck a snag, traders who had bought on the upturn in the previous session hurried to lighten holdings. Gains of many issues changed into net declines of fractions to more than a point, but some held part of the advantage to the finish. Transactions approximated 375,000 shares.

Down most of the session were United States Steel, Bethlehem, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Chrysler, Douglas, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Loft, Western Union, American Can and Santa Fe.

J. I. Case spurred 2½ on a single transaction. Also higher most of the time were Allied Chemical, Consolidated Edison, Caterpillar, Union Carbide and U.S. Rubber. A rise in bonds tapered into a narrow side-wise market.

Life of Sir Walter Scott
3—STUDIED CUSTOMS OF MIDDLE AGES

Before Scott wrote "The Lady of the Lake" and his other famous poems, he was married to Charlotte Carpenter, who proved a helpful wife. In their early life together they lived in a cottage, but later they dwelt in what Scott called his "fairly palace," a building of huge size.

While living in the "fairly palace," Scott turned his work from poems to novels. He wrote "The Heart of Midlothian," "Guy Mannering," "Kenilworth" and "The Talisman."

Richard was warned not to take the medicine.

"The Talisman," a novel of history, had its scene in one of the Crusades of the Middle Ages. Richard Coeur de Lion and Saladin were characters in the book.

Richard and Saladin led opposing armies, but it seems they admired each other a great deal, and they exchanged letters. Tales have been told of friendly meetings between them. Although these stories are interesting, they are not to be taken as true history.

In "The Talisman" Scott imagines a visit by the Saracen leader to the camp of the Crusaders. Richard lay sick with a fever, and Saladin came to cure him. The Saracen was in the disguise of a physician when he offered medicine to the sick man.

Richard saw through the disguise, and took the medicine, though his knights begged him not to risk doing so. Soon afterward he grew well.

Other novels by Scott were built around different periods in history. He had special interest in the Middle Ages and wrote a great deal about knights and castles and fair ladies.

Scott's novels were not meant to be exactly true, but they were based on study of olden customs. As we read them, the life of bygone times seems to come back to us.

Scott's novels were the "best sellers" of their day. They were read all over Great Britain, and their fame spread abroad. As a reward for his great skill, he was made a knight, and he is best known today as "Sir Walter Scott."

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—We have a problem with our daughter, who is just 17. We have gotten along finely in managing her until within the last few months; but since starting school last fall she has been wanting to go to class plays, dances or something several nights a week, and she has been going with a boy who lives in our neighborhood.

We lectured her and told her about the tricks and tactics used by boys with girls, and she listened and seemed impressed; but I caught her kissing him. I have known this boy's family all my life, and his father and his brothers were all alike—doing everything for a girl until they got her, and after marriage doing nothing to make her even comfortable. Very neglectful of their wives.

Now since school is out it is a problem to me as to whether I should let my daughter continue this courtship with the boy or stop it. I don't want her to be a wallflower or an old maid, but I think that at her age she should not have her mind on any particular boy. What do you think?

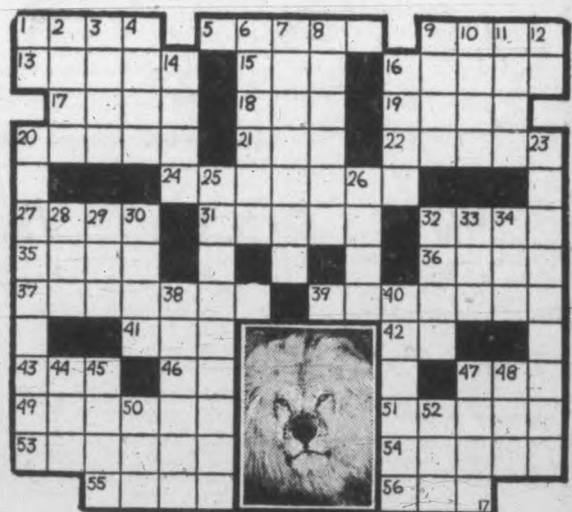

ANSWER: Nothing all the girl, except that she is just 17. All fathers and mothers have the same problem with their adolescent daughters that you are having with yours. There is nothing that you can do but just to be as forbearing and patient as you can and let her outgrow it.

Every girl passes through this boy-crazy period, but she generally gets over it without fatal results, if her parents do not take it too seriously.

The best thing you can do is to send her off to a camp, if you can afford it, or to some school where she will be separated from the boy she is probably thinking she is in love with now, and where she will meet other boys. Like cures like in love affairs, you know. A girl makes a great mistake when she gets married at 17. It makes her an old woman before her time and she misses all of the play-time of life.

Maybe your daughter isn't in love with the boy. Her kissing him was no sign. A kiss nowadays means on more than a handshake used to.

Governor Lends Patronage Drive

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamber have extended their patronage to the Women's Auxiliary to the Air Services, it was announced at a meeting yesterday afternoon at the Y.M.C.A. This newly formed group of women is conducting Victoria's first air supremacy campaign to raise funds to buy training and defence planes for the Pacific Coast. The drive, with an objective of $50,000, started Monday, with headquarters on the ground floor of the Scollard Building, Douglas Street.

Mayor A. McGavin has accepted the honorary position of campaign president. D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller, is honorary treasurer. Cecil Eve has been added to the advisory committee, which includes F. E. Winslow, C. S. Henley and F. M. McGregor. David MacMillan, manager of the Dominion Bank, has consented to audit the auxiliary accounts.

A general canvass is not contemplated, it was announced at the meeting. Funds will be raised from sporting events and donations from organizations, as well as voluntary contributions. The auxiliary is leaving the choice of plane and how it will be bought and operated to the discretion of the government. The committee stresses the intention that this campaign be a free will offering from the citizens of Victoria to help the government speed Canada's war effort.

Donations will be received at committee headquarters, or by phoning E.5542.

A collection was taken at last night's lacrosse game in connection with CFCT sport broadcast in aid of the fund. Collections will also be taken tomorrow night and at Tuesday and Friday night's games next week.

Highlight of the drive will be the "Silver Trail for Silver Wings" on Saturday, when silver coins from contributions will be placed alongside both sides of Douglas Street from the Hudson's Bay Company Store to the Sussex Block, and on Yates Street from Douglas to Blanshard Streets.

Guards will be situated along the route. It is estimated that each block filled with coins, will average $700.

Guards will consist of members of the Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, the Women's Auxiliary of the Air Services, C.G.I.T., girls Hi-Y Clubs and other volunteers. They will be under two subcaptains in each block. Miss Audrey Sturrock will be captain of the "Silver Trail."

CHEER-UP PARTY

At the drive headquarters is a Link trainer brought in from Patricia Bay air station by truck. The $8,000 machine, which is guarded day and night, weighs approximately two tons and will be demonstrated daily by student pilots in charge of Aircraftmen W. Whitehead, E. Watson and G. H. Sturjar.

Friday night at Beacon Hill Park from 8 to 10.30, the Civic Celebrations Committee will present a Cheer-up Party of dancing and singing in aid of the drive. Mrs. R. H. McDougall will outline the campaign.

First donation of the drive was made by the Women's Aeronautical Association. One donor was 80-year-old Mrs. Shields, Pembroke Street, who brought to committee headquarters an engraved silver antique watch with an old-fashioned key wind which she wished to be sold, the proceeds to be placed with the funds collected.

Following an appeal on behalf of the drive by Dr. W. J. Sippell at a Rotary Club luncheon last week, a man promptly walked over to him with a $10 donation. Dr. Sippell will be speaking over radio station CFCT at 11.15 every morning this week in aid of the "Silver Trail."

The committee has received many appeals from children anxious to aid in the drive, so a contribution box for small change is being placed in the committee rooms for those not able to give large donations. A group of children in Oak Bay have already turned in 65 cents to the auxiliary fund, raised by putting on a concert and charging an admission fee of one cent.

To publicize the drive, a car with a loud speaker will cruise Victoria streets, playing records of old ballads, such as "Put On Your Old Grey Bonnet" and "There's a Long, Long Trail," sung by Fraser Lister, with words especially written for the Silver Trail drive by members of the auxiliary.

Eyewitness Tells—

How Italian Fleet Ran From British

British warships on the move in the Mediterranean. Before them the Italian fleet ran at full speed back to its mainland. In the foreground is H.M.S. Aurora with a scout plane overhead. The Aurora visited Victoria some years ago.

By LARRY ALLEN

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP)—The eastern Mediterranean squadron of the Royal Navy was back in Alexandria last night, standing by for new orders to carry the fight to the Italian fleet, which the British squadron put to hasty flight after an "accidental" encounter a week ago today.

I was permitted to go aboard the British ships and talk to the men who told at first hand how the Italian fleet fled to safety through the Straits of Messina, between Sicily and Italy, after briefly exchanging shots at long range upon encountering the British ships off Calabria, toe of the Italian boot.

The Britons said they were conveying ships from Malta to Alexandria on the afternoon of July 9 when they got word the Italian fleet was at sea and turned about to hunt it.

NO ITALIAN HITS

The officer of one battleship said: "We first sighted the Italian fleet, vastly superior in number to our units, at extreme range. The Italians opened fire first, but did not hit any of our ships."

Most of the fire was directed upon this ship, which had steamed ahead of the other units of the British fleet.

"Our destroyers and cruisers also opened fire, driving off a flotilla of enemy destroyers which was attempting to torpedo us."

"Our ships scored a hit on andria on the afternoon of July 9 when they got word the Italian fleet was at sea and turned about to hunt it.

"Subsequently the fire from our cruisers struck one Italian cruiser and one destroyer. Immediately afterward the Italians retired under a smoke screen laid down by their destroyers."

"We pursued, and were incessantly attacked by Italian bombers, who dropped close to 200 bombs without scoring a hit."

"We followed the Italian fleet almost to the mainland, then turned back toward Egypt, the Italian bombers keeping up their attacks until we were within radius of our fighting planes from Egypt."

ITALIANS FASTER

"The Italians were vastly superior in numbers and the operating speed of their ships—both of cruisers and of battleships—proved to be much faster than ours."

The British naval command issued a statement ridiculing Italian accounts which called the encounter a "stupendous victory" for Italy.

Actually, the statement said, the Italians quickly retired under the protection of their air forces to their own coasts, "where they stood for one brief moment to engage the British fleet at extreme range."

The British officers to whom I talked said the encounter was "purely accidental," and expressed the belief the only way they ever will get a real chance to smash the Italian fleet will be to force the fight directly into Italian shore bases.

"A large formation of CR42's was engaged over Malta by two R.A.F. fighters. One Italian aircraft was shot down, diving to the ground. One of our fighters crashed on landing."

"Reports from Rome and other enemy sources make grossly exaggerated claims that since Italy entered the war many British aircraft have been shot down at Malta. The fighter which crashed yesterday was the first R.A.F. casualty there in five weeks of fighting."

"Repeatedly two or three British fighters have gone into action against Italian formations up to 20 strong."

"Although greatly outnumbered, R.A.F. fighters accounted for 10 enemy aircraft definitely shot down and seven more probably never returned to their bases owing to heavy damage inflicted upon them."

Summer School

Greek Ideal Demonstrated

The accent was on the physical at Summer School today as students, enlightened on shot-making and strokes in tennis yesterday afternoon, followed up the subject by seeing Miss Diana Watts, exponent of the Greek ideal of beauty in movement, present a lecture with demonstrations on her particular form of art.

The address was well received by the students, who marvelled at the carriage, grace and vigor of the speaker in her exposition of the subject she has mastered. Yesterday afternoon Colin Milne, Vancouver, and Ross "Bud" Hocking, Victoria, demonstrated to physical education teachers various features of practical tennis, illustrating the different strokes and playing a two-set exhibition, won by Milne, 7-5, 6-2.

This afternoon Mrs. Irene Bostwick, Mrs. Irene Green, H. O. English and Dudley Galtkill presided at a teacher-staff tea, and this evening the general student body is scheduled to gather for a beach party at the Willows, starting at 7.

Tomorrow Dr. Bernard Biermann, professor of political science at Seattle College, will speak on "The German Problem."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up."

Nervous and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. Bile.

Well, which are worse? Skids or blow-outs? There are two sides to that argument, of course. But when you realize that both of these hazards kill or injure thousands every year—why argue? There's no time to lose in getting the greatest protection against these two hazards... the protection of the new Goodrich Safety Silvertown.

For, remember—Silvertowns are the only tires that give you the road-drying Life-Saver Tread—that will stop you quicker, safer on a wet pavement than you've ever stopped before! Not only that, it's also the only tire that gives you the scientific blow-out protection of the heat-resisting Goodrich Golden Ply.

Let others argue about the dangers of skids and blow-outs, but PLAY SAFE YOURSELF. Come in and have your car equipped with this life-saving Silvertown—the tire that protects you against both skids and blow-outs.
